Death Notices

A WORD OF COMFORT It is companionship and fellowship that shortens the long, weary journey. It is exhausting to plod on alone; it is hard to keep going when there is nobody along who cares how tired and footsore you get.

Bear this in mind as you see others who are traversing the harsh and stony path of grief. It is the loneliness of it, the sense of isolation that makes it so hard. Walk along with them, know that you understand and that you care. From the refreshment and the courage that you give there will come back to you the strength you need for your own journey.

BLASDELL—Arthur Freeman BlasdeLL, aged 55 years, passed away November 27, 1927, at his residence, 213½ North Main street. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Lulu S. BlasdeLL. Services will be held from the Wimbler Mission Funeral home tomorrow, November 30, at 11 a. m., to be followed by interment Central Memorial Park.

Turkish Jewels To Be Appraised

STOCKHOLM, Nov. 29.—The ancient Turkish crown jewels, valued at millions of dollars and considered the largest and rarest collection of gems in the world, are to be appraised by foreign experts, among whom is Consul James Jansson, a Swedish jeweler. Jansson recently departed for Constantinople.

The appraisal is expected to take a month and will probably be made at Ankara, although no definite word as to the locality has been given out. Mystery also veils the purpose of the government in instituting the appraisal. In the collection are diamonds, emeralds, rubies and pearls, collected for centuries by Turkish rulers.

A part consists of ecclesiastical ornaments and church decorations which the government has seized. It is supposed that the value exceeds by far that of the Romanoff jewels.

Ever since before the allied powers captured Constantinople in 1718, the treasure has been locked in massive caskets of iron, and hidden in vaults under the Golden Horn.

Local Briefs

W. A. West, Wm. Casler, J. H. Bray and Phillip Wangler of this city, and Toots Van Fleet, of Ontario, composed a party which left here this morning for the Imperial Valley, where they will pass several days hunting ducks.

The cabinets of the Girls' leagues of Orange county will hold their annual dinner at Ketner's cafe, Santa Ana, Wednesday night.

The Junior college P.T.A. and the high school P.T.A. will meet Thursday in the hub. The home economics department under Miss Ruth Rowland's direction will present the program. There will be exhibits of work accomplished in these classes as well as several talks.

Julia Lathrop junior high school students in business training—133 of them—had an experience this morning which they found extremely interesting, when, under the leadership of Mrs. Iva M. Webber head of that department at the school, they visited the First National bank, exploring it from vaults to the sixth story. The young people were taken through in small groups each with a guide furnished through the courtesy of the bank officials.

Trial was concluded and the case submitted on briefs.

HOUSE DIVIDED BEACH WATER AGAINST SELF IS IN DANGER IN COURT FIGHT

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 29.—A house stood divided against itself in superior court here today, as members of a family aligned themselves with contesting factions in the suit of Mrs. Ora Obetz, 18, for annulment of her marriage to the husband and stepfather whom she alleged forced her to wed him when she was but 13 years old.

Mrs. Obetz testified that after her mother's death in Louisville, Ky., her stepfather, Louis Allen Obetz, 47, gave her the choice of entering a house of correction, a convent or marrying him. After a month in a convent she married him in Columbus, Kans., she said. A man named John Short posed as her dead father to obtain the license, she charged.

After the birth of a child a year later, the family moved here, she said. Then, according to Mrs. Obetz's story, her husband drove her from the house at the point of a gun.

Mrs. Dora B. Johnson, sister of Obetz, whom he has named with A. F. Christensen, wealthy Los Angeles business man in a $100,000 suit charging alienation of his wife's affections, testified in support of Mrs. Obetz.

Charles Obetz, father of the husband, declared the couple had lived happily and that Mrs. Johnson's reputation for veracity was none too good.

Trial was concluded and the case submitted on briefs.

BOULDER DAM DELEGATES TO REACH ACCORD

(By United Press)

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 29.—Colorado River commissioners of California, Arizona and Nevada will meet in San Francisco possibly tomorrow to consider division of revenue from power to be generated at the Boulder Canyon dam, representatives of Nevada and Arizona believed today as they continued negotiations looking toward a separate agreement.

Commissioners of the two states expected to complete work today on a plan to be submitted to California for sale of surplus power from the project to Southern California.

An air of confidence that the difficult problem of power distribution was near settlement prevailed in the conferences. Members of the commission did not hesitate to predict that once the power disputes were terminated an agreement on the division of water would be reached with comparative ease.

A willingness to give and take in order to reach an early pact concerning the water was expected to dominate the conferences when the experts have concluded the important question of power market.

The Seidel market was burglarized sometime during the night, last Friday. Seventy-five sides of bacon were stolen, 62 hams, 12 turkeys, 10 large meat market baskets and $35 in cash.

According to information obtained from Los Angeles, O'Connor is said to have stated after he was arrested that Courtney came to him and stated that he had bought a number of sides of bacon and hams from a truck and that if he would help him sell it, he could have half of the proceeds.

The two men had made one trip to the Manchester avenue store where they sold 30 sides of bacon and eight hams. The owner of the market became suspicious and notified the Cudahy packing plant. Detectives were sent to the market and when the men reappeared to dispose of other hams they were arrested.

The engineer was confident that the lower basin states should be ready to meet not later than Friday, according to George W. Malone, state engineer of Nevada.

Malone is understood to have prepared a proposal for distribution of water which he hoped would prove acceptable to all states interested.

The engineer was confident that the lower basin states would be able to go before the seven state conference in the near future with proposals that would lead to an early termination of the seven years of negotiations.

Courtney sticks to his story that he bought the meat from a truck after being accosted by the driver who is said to have asked him if he wanted to purchase some bacon at a low price, officers said.

As soon as the Nevada-Arizona pact has been prepared it was planned to submit it to Mathews for his consideration at an informal session.

Commissioners of the three lower basin states should be ready to meet not later than Friday, according to George W. Malone, state engineer of Nevada.

Malone is understood to have prepared a proposal for distribution of water which he hoped would prove acceptable to all states interested.

The engineer was confident that the lower basin states would be able to go before the seven state conference in the near future with proposals that would lead to an early termination of the seven years of negotiations.

Steps were being taken today to remove both prisoners to Orange county this afternoon where they will either be charged with burglary or grand theft, it was said.

Cathedral Used As Reading Room

LONDON, Nov. 29.—Many people go to church, but few to pray" is an old saying which is applied today by newspapers here to the report of one of the sextons of St. Paul's cathedral that the historic pile erected by Sir Christopher Wren is used for many other purposes than divine worship.

"Women sit in the niches just inside the side doors," he declared, "and do not seem to care if a service is on or sacred music is being played. People have some strange ideas of what a church is for. People come in here during the lunch hour and bring out sandwiches, newspapers and novels, and even write letters. We have to tell them that the cathedral is neither an eating house nor a reading room.

"We have even found courting couples in the niches of the cathedral.

Says Collegians Eating Too Much

DELWARE, O., Nov. 28.—Eating is the college student's worst enemy so far as his health is concerned, says Dr. George D. Lowry, university physician at Ohio Wesleyan.

Apart from the many student cases he treats daily at Ohio Wesleyan.

Superstitions concerning health are held by some college students, despite the general sophistication of the undergraduate, Dr. Lowry has found.

"I have been surprised to discover evidence of superstition among a few students," he said. "One girl expressed a fear that the protective powers of red flannel that recalls to me a similar superstition of China." Dr. Lowry for 20 years was head of the Methodist hospital in Peking, China.

Queer Devices Are Seen At Fair

LONDON, Nov. 29.—Many remarkable devices are on view at the international exhibition of inventions being held here. Among them is a safety razor worked by clockwork, a walking stick which provides light for safety in walking every time it hits the pavement, and a device attached to the inside of the hat which will keep the head clean by disinfecting the hair. For women there is a machine which will wave the hair, after which it is claimed no restyling is required and there is no scorching or frizzing.

As a companion to the whistling kettle there is a sauceman lid on which a bell rings when the boiling point is reached. For the benefit of people attending patriotic demonstration sunbrellas have been devised from which an umbrella is suspended.

Another interesting invention is the "air bike," on which the rider sets sail and is carried from one hill to the top of another.

COUNCIL AGAIN TAKES UP PLAN FOR SET-BACK

The city council yesterday afternoon had another session with Main street property owners on the subject of widening that thoroughfare or the establishing of a set back line.

A hearing is to be held Monday night on the proposal of a 10-foot set back line for the street north of Sixth street and south of First.

The proposal is for 10 feet on each side of the street. The city body a week ago rescinded action authorizing institution of legal proceedings for making a 10-foot set back line on Main between First and Sixth.

Fred Parsons, W. E. Chilson and Sam Jernigan, property owners on South Main street, were present to discuss the set-back proposition on South Main street. Acting as spokesman for the group, Chilson declared opposition to any action that would create a "bottle neck" situation. He urged that the street be made of uniform width or left as it is. He intimated that proposal to take three feet off the sidewalk on each side of the street through the business district should be followed in favorable consideration of widening the sections of the avenue north and south of the business center.

Chilson, Parsons and Jernigan pointed out that broadening of the street north and south of the business district would be of no avail in relief of traffic congestion if the street remained its present width through the business district.

Social Bars In Sweden Lifted

STOCKHOLM, Nov. 29.—All social barriers in the Swedish schools have been removed and the road to higher education will be open to any intelligent pupil, regardless of family wealth and tradition, because of a newly introduced school reform sanctioned by the Swedish Riksdag. The program, which has many features similar to the American school system, also calls for fewer subjects on the curriculum. It advocates specialization in certain lines of study at an early stage.

An art exhibit at Julia Lathrop junior high school, was today attracting the warm interest of the young people and members of the teaching staff at the school, who found the art room transformed by an array of beautiful paintings, tapestries and rare prints, from the Los Angeles studios of Phillip Bernays.

The exhibit hours this afternoon were to be from 3 to 5 o'clock and the art room will be open tonight to the general public, from 7 to 9 o'clock, and again tomorrow afternoon. Mr. Bernays himself is present to explain the various objects in the exhibit, which include dry point etchings, prints, lithographs and oil paintings, Japanese batiks, prints from India, Italian weaves, and French and Italian tapestries.

A small admission is being asked be used by the pupils to purchase and the funds thus collected will a picture or other decoration for the art room of the school.

Scotland Backs Language Study

EDINBURGH, Nov. 29.—Gaelic speaking Scotsmen are contemplating another intensive educational campaign in order to foster the study of the ancient Scottish tongue. Special attention will be devoted to the towns and villages of Inverness-shire and Speyside, where the old tongue still survives. Today the number of those who "have the Gaelic" is small among the younger generation and the number of Gaelic-speaking Scots is steadily dropping. In Crail and Braemar, where the three counties of Perth, Aberdeenshire and Inverness meet, Gaelic was the common tongue in the middle years of the last century, when Queen Victoria and Prince Albert "discovered" Ballinalacken.

MURDER TRIAL OF JAPANESE TAKES RECESS

As though unconcerned about the proceedings in the courtroom where he is being tried for the murder of K. Nakatsuka September 29, Y. Emaoka, Japanese ranch hand, of Capistrano, still exhibited today what members of his race called cool headedness, as the prosecution resumed its case before Superior Judge E. J. Marks.

The hearing came to a halt this morning when Mrs. K. Nakatsuka, wife of the deceased, collapsed as she was returning to the witness stand to conclude testimony begun late yesterday afternoon. Deputy District Attorney S. B. Kaufman assisted Mrs. Nakatsuka to the office of the health department, where Dr. K. H. Sutherland, deputy health officer, endeavored to resuscitate her.

The failure of H. Matsumura, witness for the prosecution, to appear, was cause for a further delay. The holding up of the trial apparently made no change in Emaoka's attitude and he conferred with his attorneys, O. A. Jacobs and K. Iwanaga, during the recess.

Dr. James Farrage, who examined Emaoka shortly after he was arrested by Deputy Sheriff F. C. Howard, went on the stand yesterday and declared that the wounds he found on the defendant's body after the battle in which he is said to have cut the jugular vein of Nakatsuka, could not have been made with the knife which the dead man is alleged to have used. He called the wounds scratches and, while he admitted under cross-examination, that they could have been made with a knife, he said the knife in question was so sharp that it would not have scratched.

The prosecution, in which Deputy District Attorney Sam Collins is collaborating with Kaufman, attempted to introduce testimony from Dr. Farrage as to whether, in his opinion, Emaoka had been drunk when examined. Jacobs objected and the evidence was not admitted.

Deputy Sheriff Howard, however, previously had declared that he believed there was an indication of alcohol on Emaoka's breath when he was arrested. At the time of his arrest it was said that Emaoka was one of the coolest men on the scene of the killing.

He and Nakatsuka had quarreled the evening before over a $5 bill in a game of dice. The controversy was continued on the morning of September 29, when the deceased is said to have entered Emaoka's room, where he met his death.

CITIZENSHIP RANKS HIGH AT POLY H. S.

Only 21 students in the Santa Ana high school last semester had a citizenship record below 69, according to figures which have just been compiled by W. M. Clayton, vice principal of the high school. On the other hand 296 students had perfect records for the semester ending June 19.

Three hundred and twenty-three students had records between 95 and 100, Clayton stated. The average was struck between 90 and 100, however. Clayton declared, as 759 boys and girls had citizenship ratings between those figures. One hundred and forty were lower than 94 while the rest were above.

One hundred and twenty-four made grades of 80 to 89, 31 were between 70 and 79.

Wild Mustangs To Become Feed

ELKO, Nev., Nov. 29.—Shipment of 500 head of wild mustangs from the Owyhee desert of northern Nevada and Idaho to the poultry producers of Petaluma has just been completed by Indians of the Owyhee reservation.

The horses were expected to bring the Indians $5 per head. They are small, inbred and vicious, and are of no use except as food for chickens and few of them have the gallant, wild, free air of the oft-pictured wild horses of the west.

During recent years a concerted drive has been made to rid the range lands of the west of the animals, as it is claimed they eat too much grass that would be of advantage to cows and sheep and also because they lead domestic horses from the staid life of the ranches to the life of adventure on the deserts.

Blankets Urged For Hobo Guests

YREKA, Calif., Nov. 29.—Knights of the Dusty Road coming to this town will not be greeted by a 40-piece blaring brass band, nor will the mayor come out to greet them, but they will be accorded a place to sleep and warm blankets to curl up in, if the suggestion of Dr. T. P. Brown is looked kindly upon by the Yrekan.

Henceforth hoboes visiting Yreka will not be "Scourged like slaves to their dungeons" but each will be able to say, "I will wrap my mantle around me and lay me down to pleasant dreams."

All this will come true if the residents of Yreka will donate enough blankets and mattresses to make beds for the impetuous itinerant workers passing through the town.

"It will keep these unfortunate off the streets at night and they will have no chance to pilfer," Dr. Brown said.

42 States Change 1928 Auto Tags

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—Forty-two states have adopted new color combinations for 1928 automobile tags while six states and the District of Columbia have decided to retain colors now in use but to reserve them as to background and letter numerals, according to the American Automobile Association.

Two color combinations are tied for first place in popularity, six states selecting a dark blue background with white numerals and six selecting green background with white numerals.

The combination of orange and black, which was popular for many years because of claims of visibility, suffered a sharp diminution in popularity.

The states to choose white on dark blue are: Connecticut, Louisiana (for maximum passenger cars), Maryland, Nebraska, and Ohio. Those choosing the green background with white numerals are West Virginia, Kentucky, Massachusetts, Michigan, New Hampshire and North Carolina.

New U. S. Planes Heavily Armed

BRISTOL, Pa., Nov. 29.—Twenty-five huge new army bombing planes, capable of carrying a 2000-pound cargo of military bombs, are under construction here at the plant of the Keystone Aircraft corporation.

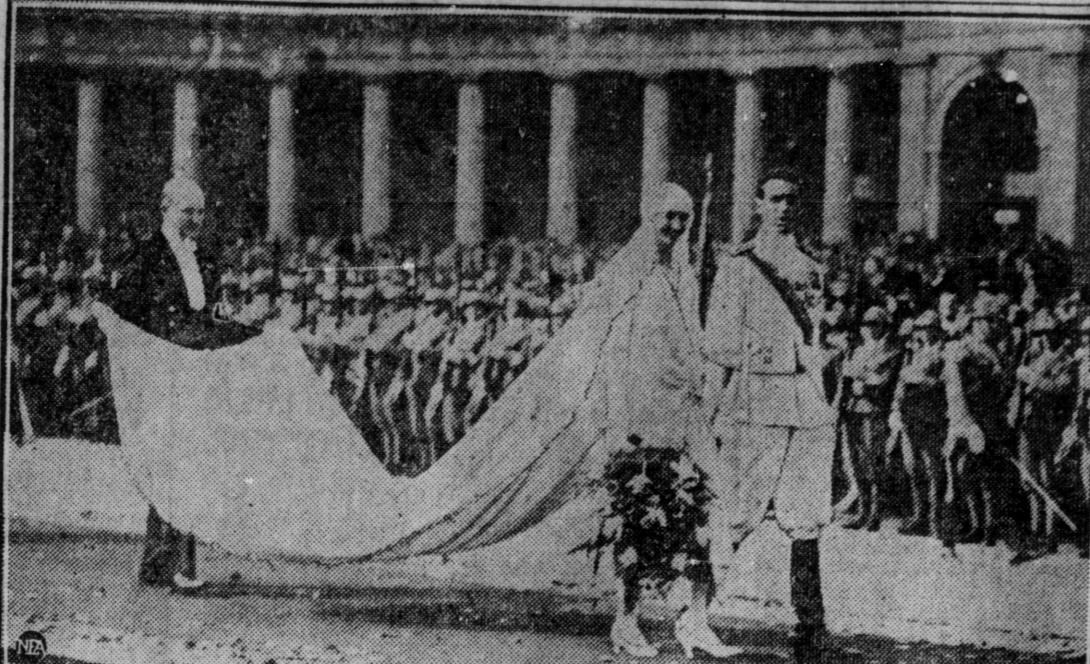

The planes are being built under a contract awarded last month, and are for re-equipment of the bombing units of the army air force.

In addition to their cargo of demolition explosives, the big planes, which carry fuel for 600 miles at 100 miles per hour, will be dangerous antagonists for combat planes which may attack them.

They will carry five machine guns, two in the forward cockpit and two in the after, on turntables, and the fifth, a tunnel gun, designed to shoot through apertures in the floor of the fuselage, for defense against attack from below. The planes are said to have a wider available arc of fire than any war planes heretofore built.

The planes were developed by the Keystone corporation, and were accepted in competitive bids. Ten already have been built and have given satisfactory performance under service conditions. The first of the present 25 will be delivered to the army at Langley field within 90 days, it was said.

The new planes, besides pilot, carry a mechanic, machine gunner and bombing officer, and are motorized with twin Liberty engines.

SAYS RUSSIA IS BAKED IN U.S.

By FREDERICK KUH
United Press Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, Nov. 29.—Russia's foreign relations are viewed most pessimistically by Karl Radek, once powerful in the councils of the soviet and now one of the leaders of the opposition.

In China, where he sees only triumph for military warlords, and in the United States, which he views pessimistically as far as its relations in the future with the soviet are concerned, he holds out scant hope for what soviet diplomacy may do in the next few years.

While in Moscow I visited his apartment in the Kremlin. It is littered with books, newspapers and magazines, piled high on tables, chairs, sofas and on the floor, and it give the usual impression of a bookworm's habitat, just swept by a cyclone.

Radek hospitably offered me tea. It was Chinese tea and he had received it a few days ago as a gift from the "Christian" general Feng Yu Shan, of China. Along with the tea, General Feng had addressed a letter to Radek and signed it, "From a little revolutionary brother to a big revolutionary brother." Before serving the tea, which he treasured highly, Radek gave me fair warning. His last visitor, he explained, had disliked the tea, and Radek had thrown him downstairs. The implicit threat was unnecessary, as the tea lived up to the estimate of the "big revolutionary brother."

An undercurrent of pessimism pervaded Radek's remarks. He visualized the setback of the Chinese revolution, saw China again divided into autonomous provinces over which military tyrants would rule, engaging in profitable business and industrial ventures on the side. He predicted the continuation of civil war in China and prophesied the emergence of a strong Manchurian opposition against Marshal Chang-tso-lin, Mukden warlord.

As for the United States, he saw no opening for a revival of relations with the soviet government. He contended that as long as American traders and bankers reap substantial profits from the business with Russia, Washington will continue to insist that formal recognition of the soviet regime is superfluous.

All the officials with whom I talked displayed firm confidence in the ultimate success of the Chinese national independence movement and regarded the deflation of this or that general, the loss of a city or a military reverse as mere episodes which at best retard the Chinese revolution but cannot defeat it.

Life for men at the head of the soviet union has always been a bitter struggle, from the early days of imprisonment and Siberian exile to the days of revolution, civil war and up-hill pull out of the economic mire into which Russia had sunk. They have endured military defeats, famine, economic reversals, currency inflation. Their lifelong adventures in adversity may stand them in good stead in trying to regain the ground recently lost in soviet foreign relations.

BREA

BREA, Nov. 29.—Mrs. Edna Brambley, Mrs. Mary Edmonson, Mrs. Alice Stevens, Mrs. Stella Keene and Mrs. Florence Jones were Trinity Rebekah members who on Saturday night attended a meeting of the auxiliary of the encampment at Anaheim. The members were occupied throughout the evening with needlework in preparation for the auxiliary bazaar which is to be held in Anaheim during the second week of December. The new store in the Crane building, occupied by the G. H. Green meat market, the L. A. Hogue grocery and the Elmer Holcomb fruit and vegetable concession, opened for business early Monday morning. The store was a bower of flowers, sent by friends and accompanied by notes of congratulations and good wishes.

Walter Herrick, of the firm of Woodruff's, Inc., and his sister, Mrs. William Purdy, returned Sunday from Ogden, Utah, where they were called the first of the week by a wire announcing the death of their sister, Mrs. Frank Stevens. Funeral services were held for Mrs. Stevens on Wednesday.

Owing to the illness of J. R. Collier, chairman in charge of the program for the Lions at their regular weekly luncheon Friday, W. A. Culp took charge of that detail, introducing Roland Dye, Boy Scout executive in Orange county, who spoke on service clubs and the Boy Scout movement. Dye recounted the progress of Boy Scout work in Brea and commanded the Lions as a club for the interest they have taken in the boys of Brea along this line. Guests of the club were Roy Kidder, of Fullerton and "Doc" Rawlings, of Santa Ana.

Frank Slaughter, yard man in Brea for the Brown-Dauser Lumber company, has been taken to the Fullerton hospital where he is being treated for a severe case of pneumonia. He is reported showing some improvement but still very ill.

TEST "SAFE" GASOLINE

PARIS, Nov. 28.—Gasoline that will not burn in its liquid state is being tested by government engineers and it is believed that the new fuel may become widely used in aviation. If it proves satisfactory in airplane motors it should save many flyers from death in flaming planes that crash in forced landings.

DYNAMITE CAPS FOUND NEXT TO MOTORS DEPOT

Police News

Charged with being drunk, Mered Contreras, 35, and C. Connally, both of Santa Ana, were arrested here yesterday. Connally was arrested last night by Officer A. T. Holmes, and Contreras was taken into custody by Officer Smithwick.

Three persons were fined $2 each in city police court yesterday on charges of parking in loading zones. They were: James Thompson, O. S. Wits and R. H. Cook, all of Santa Ana.

The caps were discovered by C. M. Steele, driver for the stage company, who turned them over to officers. The officers, in turn, sent them to a local sporting goods house for safe keeping.

Several caps, believed to have come from the same place as the ones found yesterday were placed on street car tracks on West Fourth street several days ago. Chief of Police Rogers said.

Dynamite caps are dangerous, Rogers pointed out today, and he is anxious to keep them away from small boys, he said.

HENRY SEIBEL, INVENTOR, TO GO INTO COURT

Henry Seibel, Anaheim inventor, who announced last spring that he had sold his patent on his air spring seat for $175,000 to a nationally known rubber company, and that he had fallen heir to a vast estate in Germany, must appear with Mrs. Seibel before State Corporation Commissioner Friendlander in Los Angeles tomorrow morning with the books and sales receipts of the Seibel Air Springs Company, Inc.

The exact whereabouts of Seibel are unknown, although he is said to be in San Francisco conferring with his attorney, E. M. Massey, who is also a director in the company, according to Investigator Whittaker. A subpoena was served on Mrs. Seibel at 205 South First street, Inglewood, yesterday.

All books of the corporation were removed when the office of the concern at 500 Atchinson street, Anaheim, was closed last spring, according to Whittaker, who believes that they are in a safe deposit box in Inglewood.

Investigation of the company started after numerous complaints had been received from persons who had purchased stock in Seibel's company, Whittaker said.

According to Commissioner Friendlander, the company was granted a permit June 14, 1920, to sell 200,000 shares of stock at $1 per share. The permit was revoked February 2, 1927, Friendlander said.

The Seibel seat, is especially adapted to tractors and many are in use in the Anaheim district, according to reports.

automobiles on the city streets of Santa Ana without operators' licenses, when they appeared before Judge Talbot yesterday in police court.

A tuxedo, a woman's silk coat and a satin slip were reported stolen from the home of F. C. Rowland, 810 South McClay street, last night, while members of the family were away from home, according to a report filed with the police today. Entrance into the house was made with the aid of a pass key.

A Favorite Quick Dessert

By HENRI BASSETTI, Chef, Ambassador Hotel, Los Angeles

AFTER testing all kinds of gelatin desserts we determined that Jell-well was, by far, the most successful.

Jell-well always sets WELL. We can depend on it every time.

Jell-well tastes better, too. Everyone likes it. That's because its flavor suggests the pure juice of western fruits—Loganberries, Strawberries and Raspberries of Oregon and Washington. One of the best.

This dessert is better looking, also. Clearer, more beautiful. Hold it up to the light and you can see its pure transparency.

Many Ambassador guests select Jell-well for its healthfulness. It digests quickly and assists in the digestion of other foods.

TAKES SHOT AT PET CAT: FINED $5 IN COURT

When you are awakened in the middle of the night by the howling of some cat in the neighborhood, don't follow the first inclination that comes to you—that of grabbing a gun and using it effectively, advises Police Chief Rogers.

It isn't wise, as Adam Hanson, 26, stage hand, of 410 South Sycamore street, can testify. Hanson did just that little thing, according to a police report, but because he did, he was haled into police court and fined $5. Not fined for shooting the cat, but for firing a gun inside the city limits, which is against the law. It happened that Hanson shot the pet cat of Miss Gladys Cope, 318 West Chestnut street. Hanson probably didn't know it was a pet cat but he found it out later when Miss Cope swore to a complaint against him.

So when the cats in the neighborhood howl at night, stand for it until the next day, then go to police station and get a permit to do a little fancy shooting, and that is what Hanson failed to do, according to Chief of Police Rogers.

SOLDIERS GUARD AGAINST I. W. W. RIOTS

Soldiers of the New Mexico National Guard are shown halting an automobile near the state line. The guardmen were ordered out by Gov. Soldiers now are stationed on the motor highway south of Trinidad, Colo., and north of Raton, along the state line.

MIDWAY CITY POULTRY MEN GET TOGETHER

The Midway City Poultry association was formally organized last night at a meeting attended by some 40 residents of that city. The meeting was held at the plant of the Pacific Southwest Poultry company, and was called to order by Manager J. M. Kuder. The following officers were chosen by acclamation: President, W. R. Clifton; vice president, B. L. Kirkham; secretary, Mrs. L. W. Ogle; treasurer, Mrs. R. R. Suess. President Clifton announced that the necessary committees would be named at the next meeting, at which time by-laws would be submitted. A program committee, consisting of C. E. Manley, G. E. Waters and L. E. Roney, was named to prepare for the ensuing meetings, and it was proposed to make the association gatherings of much interest socially as well as beneficial.

W. M. Wise, poultry superintendent of the Pacific Southwest company, will conduct a school of instruction at each meeting, which will be held Monday evenings, and a question box will be one of the features of the school. Every one present signed the membership roll and it is planned to enroll the entire population of Midway City in the association. The business meetings will be for the consideration of matters of community interest, in addition to the poultry industry, and the members believed that with the co-operation of the residents, a great many public improvements can be secured without delay.

It was decided to serve a lunch at the meeting next Monday night, and a committee consisting of Mesdames J. M. Kuder, George Rosegrant and James Rabatt was named to make the necessary arrangements.

OFFICER FINDS BOYS HARD TO KEEP IN HAND

Subtract one from three and two are left. Take one from that leaves one and then subtract the one and as one will tell you, the result is zero.

The above result was exactly the result Officer C. W. Wolford had after a little subtraction was shown him last night.

According to a police report, made by Wolford himself, he "jumped" three youths whom he believed to be rifling an automobile near Sixth and Bush streets. One ran away, leaving two, whom he arrested. He started back to police station with them, when one of these ran away.

Wolford quickly asked two citizens to watch his remaining prisoner while he chased the second one that ran. The runner outdistanced the officer, although Wolford emptied his gun at him, which brings us to the final stage of the subtraction problem—I. e.

When the officer returned to the citizens, he found they had failed to hold him as requested.

JAPANESE HELD BLAMELESS IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Tashi H. So, Japanese, arrested soon after the automobile accident at Seventeenth street and Garden Grove road, Sunday night, which claimed the life of Cornelius T. Palmer, 48, 522 West Washington avenue, was absolved from all blame in connection with the death by a coroner's jury, at an inquest held over the body at Harrell's undertaking parlors here yesterday afternoon.

The following the inquest, So was released from the county jail, where he had been held for investigation.

Funeral services for Palmer will be conducted at the Spurgeon Memorial church, Broadway and Church street, tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. The Rev. Moffett H. Rhodes, pastor of the church, will officiate and burial will be made in Fairhaven cemetery.

The condition of Mrs. So, who was injured in the accident was reported as good today from the Orange County hospital, where she was taken after the accident.

NEW LIGHTS ON BROADWAY NOT TO BE COSTLY

Property owners on North Broadway will pay less per front foot than was quoted as the possible charge when petitions were circulated for installation of an ornamental lighting system from Sixth to Santa Clara avenue, it was revealed with opening of bids by the city council last night.

Contract for the work was awarded to Walker and Martin of Fullerton, on their bid of $26,590, or at the rate of $2.34 per front foot. It originally was estimated the cost would be around $3.25 a foot. The low bid was approximately $5000 less than the estimated cost by the city engineering department. Eight bids were received.

Six bids were received for the installation of a sewer system in the southwest section, and were taken under advisement for one week.

Permission was given J. O. Gullidge to erect a garage building at 207 North Bristol street.

The council accepted an invitation to attend the meeting of the Orange County Peace Officers association at Huntington Beach on the evening of December 7, when it is possible an effort will be made to organize the city councils of Orange county into an association.

At the request of W. C. Schultz and others, Eastwood avenue, between Fourth and Sixth streets, were changed from the residential zone to the apartment house zone.

G. I. Bauer was denied the privilege of erecting a barn-like structure at 2600 North Flower street to be used as an assembling plant for dehydrators he is manufacturing.

F. D. Robinson and L. Davenport were given permission to operate merchant patrols here on condition that they comply with a state law requiring a state license and provision of bonds for proper execution of their work.

The city engineer was directed to prepare plans and specifications for construction of a sewer line on Seventh street between Bristol and Artesia streets.

Suggestion by a Long Beach newspaper that the council authorize insertion of a page ad in a special edition to be issued soon was rejected.

The resignation of Mrs. Laura Murray as secretary of the municipal water department was accepted, effective December 1. Mrs. Murray will remain on call during December. The retiring secretary has been in the position for approximately 17 years, and has seen the department develop from a small affair to its big proportions of today. No reason for resigning was given in the written resignation submitted to the council.

TWO ARRAIGNED ON NO-FUND CHARGES

L. D. Farris, 22, and Worth Prentiss, 22, both of Los Angeles, were arraigned in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court this morning on a charge of issuing a fictitious check for $28.50 to G. M. Rice, 1002 Orange avenue, on November 13. Ball was fixed at $1500 each and their preliminary examinations set for 9 a.m. December 1.

Neither defendant made bail.

L. A. SALESMAN IS GUILTY OF FRAUD

O. Farrington, Los Angeles salesman, was found guilty of defrauding an inn-keeper, in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court this morning. Time for the pronouncement of sentence was continued until late this afternoon.

Farrington is alleged to have departed from the Finley hotel, here, where he was residing, without paying the bill incurred there. He has been in jail for the past week on failure to make bail of $500.

Lesson No. 8

Question: Why is the emulsified form the more efficient way for me to realize the health-giving benefits of cod-liver oil?

Answer: Because when cod-liver oil is emulsified it is more perfectly absorbed, and does not disagree with digestion. Take

Orange Chamber Names Directors

ORANGE, Nov. 29.—Six directors, to serve with six holdovers and three to be appointed at large, were elected by the chamber of commerce members yesterday. Those named are N. T. Edwards, Frank L. Moore, E. E. Campbell, W. W. Perry, William Prentiss Jr., and F. A. Henderson.

The holdover directors are W. E. Clement, K. E. Watson, F. L. Ainsworth, Paul Muench, Fred Alden and Sherman Gillogly.

The directors are to convene next Monday for the purpose of electing a president, treasurer and secretary.

LAGUNA BEACH WOMAN FAILS IN LAND SUIT

Nettie K. Holcomb-Pritchard, of Laguna Beach, had today failed to secure judgment for $1400 against Clemma Woods, also of Laguna, in a suit brought because the lot she claims to have been buying from Skidmore brothers, was not as large as it had been represented to be.

The plaintiff said she had given the money to the defendant to be applied to the purchase price of the property. After the agreement was made, so she said, she found that, instead of a lot 50 feet wide, she had only 49.88 feet in width. Superior Homer G. Ames gave his decision in favor of the defendant when the evidence introduced was said to be in favor of Clemma Woods.

The plaintiff had asserted that the property was entirely unsuitable to her needs, although supposedly it would have been adequate if it had been 50 feet wide. She said she asked Joe Skidmore to make the lot larger and that he refused to stretch it.

DUNTON SAYS NEW FORD TO BE SENSATION

According to a statement today by George Dunton, announcement yesterday that details of the new Ford car will be revealed at his agency on Friday has aroused the greatest interest.

The agent emphasized the point that the revelation would once and for all dispel many guesses as to what the successor to the Model T will be.

"Four wheel brakes, standard selective gear transmission, extraordinary acceleration, a speed of 60 miles an hour and more, a practically vibrationless engine, and unusual beauty in line and color are among the outstanding features of the new Ford," Dunton said. "The generator, oiling system, steering gear and rear axle are of new Ford design."

Photographs and descriptive charts of the new car will be on display at Dunton's show room Friday and later various models of the new line will be on display. "Ford's statement had prepared us for a surprise, but the new car is even better than we had hoped for," the dealer said. "It is certain to make history in the automotive industry, just as its predecessor, the Model T, has made history for 20 years."

Early Marriages Urged By Church

BELFAST, Ireland, Nov. 29.—"Marry early," was one of the dogmas of the Irish Catholic hierarchy in special pastoral session here.

Others were:
There is no better custom for our social life than marriage. Early marriages are the safeguard of the commandments and of the states; such marriages are not improvident; they are the blessing of God and of nature.

POLICE UNCOVER LIQUOR IN CACHE BEHIND SECRET WALL
IN HOME OF JESUS ESQUIVAL

A false wall in the bed room of the home of Jesus Esquivel, 1014 Lincoln street, has successfully frustrated attempts by police to locate liquor in the house for the past several weeks, but the secret panel was found late yesterday, by Sid Smithwick, assistant chief of police, and as a result, the Esquivel house surrendered 13 one-half gallon jugs and nine pint bottles of liquor.

Esquivel was not at home at the time or has he appeared in the near vicinity since. Police are searching for him.

Several times recently, officers have searched the premises believing that somewhere liquor was stored there. They knew, they said, that Esquivel was bootlegging, but finding the evidence was not so easy.

Esquivel's wife, who was at home yesterday, really gave the clews that ended in the discovery, although she did not know it. Officers C. V. Adams, Smithwick and

H. E. Holmes, while searching the premises, kept their eyes on the woman. They noticed that whenever they were near the bedroom, she became intensely interested in the search, but as they moved to other rooms, she apparently lost interest in the proceedings. Therefore they returned to the bedroom.

While searching, Smithwick struck the secret panel and almost all of the false wall fell in on him. Behind it, the liquor was found neatly arranged on shelves just wide enough to hold the half gallon jugs.

The camouflage arrangement is probably the most clever uncovered here in several years, in the opinion of the officers.

The confiscated liquor was brought to police station as evidence.

Blue Sunday Law Found In Florida

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 29.—To shoot or not to shoot, that is the question in Dade county, Florida, among Miami nimrods.

The open season for dove hunting is now on, with the other game season opening November 26. An old law just unearthed forbids discharging of firearms on Sunday.

However the sheriff's office has announced it will take no action against the hunters until a ruling is made, which, however, does not say that constables and game wardens will follow suit. Starting November 26, hunters will start waging war on quail, deer, turkey, some bear, possum, raccoon and rabbit.

DIVORCES HIT BY ITALIAN ORDER

WASHINGTON LETTER

By RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

MILAN, Italy, Nov. 29.—Hungary's divorce mill, serving continental Europeans much the same as the Paris divorce mill serves Americans, has had its smooth working machinery interrupted by action of the Italian courts. Recently Italy shocked its divorces and those contemplating such separation by refusing its nationality to those who had been denationalized and divorced according to foreign law.

The test case, embodying this decision made by the First Section of the Council of State, was that of Umberto and Maria Pozzoli of Milan, and has caused an unpleasant ant to divorce lawyers of Italy.

Since divorce is not permitted by the Italian law, Italians anxious to dissolve the marriage tie have adopted the plan of temporarily assuming a foreign nationality in some country like Hungary where naturalization is quick and easy.

Hitherto, after the divorce in the foreign country has been granted, they have resumed their Italian nationality without much difficulty. Now the ruling of the council of state that reacquisition of nationality cannot be granted as a matter of right has naturally caused considerable alarm among the Italians temporarily enjoying Hungarian or Swiss or Szczecin-Slovak nationality for the purpose of obtaining a divorce.

The Hungarian divorce mill, which is the most famous in Central Europe, has proved a gold mine for Budapest lawyers who have succeeded in reducing the formalities to a minimum. For persons of certain nationalities, the procedure has been wonderfully simplified; the temporary "adoption" of the would-be foreign divorcee by a Hungarian foster-father, in return for a fee, sufficing in some cases to give Hungarian nationality.

EL TORO

EL TORO, Nov. 29.—Mrs. Alf Trapp will entertain the women's club Wednesday afternoon at the El Toro hall at 2 o'clock.

Mrs. Emma Kelley, principal of the local school, reports that the following pupil's maintained a perfect attendance record during the first quarter: Franklin Pierce, Mary Ustariz, Peter Acuna, Helen Bennett, Ida Swartz, Margaret Jiles, Grace Trapp, Beverly Bennett, Grace Swartz, Evelyn Bennett, Evelyn Henry, Erma James, Arthur Kenney, Joseph Osterman, George Osterman, Grace Etcheberria, Gordon James and Eugene James.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Bennett and family returned Sunday from Mojave where they spent the holiday with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Moulton have returned from a trip to Boston, where they visited relatives of Mr. Moulton.

and action of the constituted authorities . . . which would "put in the place of the delegated will of the nation the will . . . of a small but artful and enterprising minority of the community . . . as likely to become 'potent engines by which cunning, ambitious and unprincipled men will be enabled to subvert the power of the people."

As for economy, armaments and debts:

"Avoid occasions of expense by cultivating peace, but remembering also that timely disbursements to prepare for danger frequently avoid much greater disbursements to repel it; avoiding likewise the accumulation of debt, not only by shunning occasions of expense, but by vigorous exertions in time of peace to discharge the debts which unavoidable wars may have occasioned, not ungenerously throwing on prosperity the burden which we ourselves ought to bear."

The national parent warned against undue affection or hatred toward any foreign country, remarking sapiently that "There can be no greater error than to expect or calculate on real favors from nation to nation."

Eloquent pleas concerning the sanctity of homes raided by prohibition agents without warrants are generally only cheap imitations of the court argument of James Otis in 1761 against the writs of assistance. Otis proclaimed that "special warrants only are legal" and:

"One of the most essential branches of English liberty is the freedom of one's house. A man's house is his castle; and whilst he is quiet, he is as well guarded as a prince in his castle."

Patrick Henry, in his long-winded oration against the federal constitution, raised the issue of congressional apportionment which recent congresses have so artfully ducked. He objected to the wording of the provision that representatives should "not exceed one for every 30,000," on the grounds ambiguity. Henry may have been overheated, but his protest that "four of the smallest states, that do not collectively contain one-tenth the population of the United States, may obstruct the most salutary and necessary amendments" is reminiscent of the present day plaint about the difficulty of adding new amendments or repealing any existing.

Other instances of repetitive history might be cited endlessly.

To Young Ladies

This is an age of independence of women—feminine assertiveness is one of the revelations of this progressive era. This is also an age of youth, and it requires the stamina and speed of youth to keep up with the pace set by modern methods of thought and action.

When we talk to you about young people's finances we talk about things that were not understood a few years ago. Today, young women are informing the world that they are individuals who can think and act, who will conduct their affairs as they see it, BUT THAT THEY ARE DOING THE CONDUCTING!

It's a wonderful age, let people say what they will, and this bank understands and is giving intelligent service in matters of finance to such young folk.

GERMANY, AUSTRIA UNION IS TALKED

VIENNA, Nov. 29.—With the advent here of Chancellor Marx and Foreign Minister Gustav Stresemann of Germany for a friendly visit, there has been a revival of the talk among the people of the possibility of a union between Germany and Austria and speculation whether the visit of the two officers has anything to do with such a project.

At a banquet given in honor of the German visitors, Chancellor Seppel of Austria heartily endorsed the policy of general conciliation among the countries of Europe.

Chancellor Marx responded by expressing the belief that under the practical idealism described by Seppel the German people of both Austria and Germany would walk along a path leading forward and upward. There was no expression from either, however, which indicated the desirability of a union between the two countries.

HATRED FOR WIFE THAT HE MURDERED STILL TORMENTS REMUS, KING OF BOOTLEGGERS

By ALLENE SUMNER
NEA Service Writer

CINCINNATI, Ohio.—George Remus, "king of the bootleggers," now on trial for the shooting to death of his second wife, Imogene Holmes Remus, is one of the queerest murderers science has ever studied.

For George Remus, the $5-a-week drug clerk who defied the law to become multi-millionaire, and who killed because he hated and thirsted for revenge, has not been freed from his thirst for vengeance by the bullet which killed his wife.

He only thirsts more. Not a tear has he shed for his dead wife nor for his act of passion that killed her. Imogene Holmes Remus haunts "The King" even more in death than in life, for he cannot now get at her again to taunt her more, and the mere act of killing was too brief to satisfy rage pent up for months.

I visited "The King" in his office cell. This cell is granted Remus, attorney for the defense, for Remus is his own counsel, but Remus, the self-confessed murderer, must sleep in his cell in "solitary" at night.

Would Kill Again
I went to see the usual consolations stricken murderer, palsied with terror and grief and awful remorse. I found a murderer who only asked for the chance to kill again.

"She died before I could tell her how I hated her," he says. George Remus is wronged by the woman who betrayed him, says far more in her death than in her life. She will not let him sleep nights, nor eat nor ponder over his law books.

"I keep thinking how I hate her!" he says.

The Remus love story may be old by now. But "The King" tells it like this:

"My first wife was a good and lovely woman—the only woman I ever loved. We were living with our little daughter Romola in Chicago. I had a $45,000 a year law practice. Most of my cases were divorces for women. That was how I met Imogene Holmes.

"I don't know why I did it, but she flattered me and amused me and led me on. I never had the slightest idea of giving up my home for her. But one day when I was at her home a plumber began to make trouble. I pitched into him and knocked him down. Unfortunately, it happened in that slum-stocking district of Evanston. Anyone who lived there was 'good copy' for the papers. It was played up big—Prominent Attorney Assists Plumber in Fair Client's House."

"My wife divorced me. It was as easy to marry the other woman as to do anything else. My life was ruined anyway. She was a snappy woman and wore her clothes and jewels well. I wanted to be a social leader and I thought she knew how to turn the trick.

Became a Bootlegger

"It was for her that I defied the law and came to Cincinnati determined to get out of the $50,000 a year class into the millionaire class by defying that farcical law of prohibition."

Remus paced his office-cell like a madman as he continued.

"They might tell you down in the Atlanta pen that this woman, this person, this lump of clay, this mess of pottage for which I sold my home and family, was 'the best woman who have ever entered the prison.' They called her 'the angel of the pen.'

"She loved to show off! She even scrubbed out my cell on her hands and knees, brought me flowers and roast chicken and cake, and babied and petted me, just to knife me in the back."

"How she loved to show off! She even scrubbed out my cell on her hands and knees, brought me flowers and roast chicken and cake, and babied and petted me, just to knife me in the back."

"She must corral myself together; the egregious and exasperating principle at stake," from the teeming fullness of my grateful heart," are some of his pet vocal exercises.

Willard Operetta

"AH Baba and the Forty Thieves," Willard Junior high school operetta, under the direction of Miss Esther Jean Davis, assisted by Miss Dorothy Smith, will be presented at the Poly high auditorium on Thursday and Friday evenings, December 1 and 2. This operetta is a most interesting story taken from the Arabian Nights. The threads of foreign magic and old customs are mingled with a fascinating romance. Each scene contains an abundance of vivid coloring which adds remarkably to the charm of the story. "AH Baba" promises to be the best operetta ever given by the Frances Willard school and it is hoped that many Santa Anans, young and old, will take advantage of the opportunity to attend a splendid musical entertainment. The musical talent in Willard this year is exceptionally fine and the operetta is well adapted to the cast chosen. The story, well known to all boys and girls of school age, ranks high in the Arabian Nights collection.

Willard Welfare Club

The girls of the Willard Welfare club have spent their last few meetings in working for the Tuberculosis association of Orange county, folding Christmas seals. They have folded papers containing about 300,000 seals, and have been a real help to the association.

The Welfare girls have done considerably for the school and other worthy causes wherever they have the opportunity. Mrs. Thatcher has charge of this club.

Willard Service Club

The weekly meeting of the Willard Service club was held Tuesday, November 22. After lunch a business meeting took place. Mr. Kellogg sat up the radio which the club bought.

Latin Wars Continue

The Latin class, under the direction of Mrs. Thatcher, is still engaged in a spirited battle between the Romans and the Gauls. The winning side will owe the losers a treat. At present the Gauls are ahead.

Baseball Committee Begins Ticket Sale Drive

320 BOOKS ARE ALREADY SOLD IN SANTA ANA

The campaign to make the Portland Pacific Coast league's training camp at the Orange County air grounds a financial as well as an advertising success was well under way today.

While representatives of 15 communities in the county went among their citizens, spreading the gospel of the movement, Guy J. Gilbert, of Santa Ana, and V. D. Johnson, of Orange, established headquarters and prepared to make the drive a county-wide one in which every locality would be given a chance to participate in this, one of the most pretentious exploitation undertakings ever attempted in the section.

Gilbert was elected permanent chairman and Johnson secretary of the Orange County Baseball Committee, the official organization, at a big booster session at the Fair grounds last night. A fried chicken dinner, served by members of the Anaheim American Legion auxiliary, was an attendant feature.

Indicating that wide-aware business men already have been "sold" on the proposition and disclosing that boosters have been doing splendid missionary work, J. R. Hunt, manager of the campaign, announced that 320 season books, selling at $5 each, already have been disposed of in Santa Ana alone.

The plan is to sell 1000 of the ticket books, good for 10 exhibition contests that Portland will play at the Fair grounds, and if this is accomplished the camp will finance itself. Boosters were confident this could be done within a short time.

Ernie Johnson, field manager of the Portland club, attended the dinner and commented on the wide publicity that would revert to Orange county through the establishment of the camp. Johnson said the baseball diamond was satisfactory and that the Portland groundskeeper would be here within a few weeks to look over the plant.

The committee will assemble again within two weeks. The meeting will be held in Fullerton and at that time reports as to the progress of the ticket sales will be made.

Bigger and beefier opponents. That's what Jack Delaney, who recently resigned his light heavyweight title to take a shot at Gene Tunney's heavyweight crown, wants now. He says he would show the world that a "good little man can beat a good big man," just as Bob Fitzsimmons did.

PROSPECTS FOR HUDDINS FACES 1928 TEAM AT REAL TEST IN BERKELEY GOOD SCRAP TONIGHT

BERKELEY, Nov. 29.—Taking stock of possibilities for the 1928 football season which will be Nibs Price's third year as head coach of the University of California, followers of the Bears today discovered that but 11 men will be lost by graduation and that five of these have ranked as regulars this year.

The seniors on the squad are Dick Blewett and Jim Dougery, ends; Captain Fritz Coltrin, Frank Fitz, Elmer Gerken and Ned Green, tackles; Jack Evans, quarterback; Frank Gill, halfback; Irving Marcus, halfback; Bern Oulie, end; and Paul Perrin, halfback.

Of these men, Fitz, Oulie and Gill, have had but two years of football competition and may return for a third season.

When Price calls the roll for spring practice there will be 20 lettermen on hand besides a number of promising freshmen. Indications are that the 1928 Bear team will be weakest in the tackle positions, for both regular tackles and their substitutes are seniors. Captain Coltrin will be greatly missed, but if Fitz returns to school one tackle post will be well taken care of by Tom Gallery, manager of the Hollywood Legion stadium, has announced another main event for Friday night that is attracting great attention. He will send the high-flying Jackie Fields against Dick Ramies.

Hudkins is at weight, just a fraction under the welterweight demand of 147 pounds, and since his Dundee disappointment has toiled mightily in a gymnasium here hoping that some far-flung chance might still throw him into the squared arena for a tilt at the Baltimore champion's crown.

He intends to show the house tonight that he—and he alone—is the logical welterweight to wear the toga of champion, Hudkins declares.

Auerbach, in the opinion of Hudkins' camp followers, is just tough enough middleweight to suit the Ace's style of milling—but not of the caliber to stand the rough going Ace intends to provide.

Baseball Gets Attention As Football Dying

the National league did not hurt the trade.

When all the club owners and managers gather, rumors of trades and deals are passed around but they don't always materialize. This year, however, there may be some real swapping.

The American league, facing the necessity of working up some competition for the champion Yankees, may do some serious swapping and announcement of a new manager for the Cleveland club is expected. It is understood "Bucky" Harris, who doesn't like Washington as well as he did when he had a championship team, is said to be after the Cleveland job.

The Yanks, incidentally, seem to be the only one of the 16 clubs not in dire need of reinforcements. The Giants will do some trading if they can get the players they want and John McGraw isn't one to take half steps when he wants something.

The St. Louis Cardinals have Rhem and Bell on the market but they don't want to toss away such strength to a pennant-contending team.

733 Deer Tags Are Sold From Clerk's Office

County Clerk J. M. Backs, announced today that a total of 733 deer tags were sold to nimrods in Orange county through his office this year.

"That doesn't prove that 733 deer are wearing Orange county license plates this fall," Backs made haste to explain.

The deer tags, an innovation in state hunting circles this year, were sold in conjunction with the customary hunting licenses, each purchaser receiving four tags, two for each of the two deer allowed as the season's bag. When a kill was made the hunter was required to fasten one tag to the horns and mail the duplicate of that tag to the state fish and game commission.

BUENOS AIRES, Nov. 29.—Alex Alekhine virtually was the uncrowned world's chess champion today.

The score to date was: Alekhine five games; Capablanca three and 25 draws.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 29.—Conrad Mack, manager of the Philadelphia Athletics, announced that he had reached an agreement with Eddie Collins, last year's field captain, and that Collins would sign a contract within a few days. Mack said Collins was "a fixture" with the athletics and that while he probably would not play much would be a lieutenant to the manager.

A new record in speed was written when pretty Princess Xenia of Greece and her young husband, William B. Leeds, tried out their torpedo speedboat "Fan Tail" on Long Island Sound. With 27 persons on board, the unique 38-foot vessel did 63 miles an hour. The upper photo shows the boat cutting the water; below, left to right, are Leeds, Johannes Plum, and the princess. Yes Sir! The season of 1927 will go down in the football records as a tough one for many of the leading coaches and supposedly championship teams.

It has been hinted that fraternity politics handicapped the Ohio State team. The difficulty in the election of a captain for this year bears out that belief. That, of course, is a situation the coach must handle and usually in a drastic manner.

The Cornell Daily Sun in defense of Coach Dobie says:

"Too many lounge lizards who grace fraternity portals and the drawing rooms of girls' dormitories is Cornell's chief trouble rather than lack of proper coaches.

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 29.—Billy Evans, veteran American league umpire, has been appointed general manager of the Cleveland Indians, Alva Bradley, president of the club, told Cleveland sport writers at a banquet last night.

While Justice E. hung it on Sir Harry in the Derby, the latter came back two weeks later and took his conqueror's measure and defeated a tip-top field in the Coffroth, winning the 1½ mile stake in 2:03 2-5 and taking down $84,400 for the Seagram stable of Canada.

The Tijuana Cup, the longest race of the season, this being two miles, is the third richest. It will have $10,000 added money and will be run Sunday, March 25.

In addition to these three stakes,

there will be the Tijuana Oaks, the Speed Handicap and the Tijuana Futurity—all with enough reward to bring out the cracks of winter racing.

CLOSE ENTRIES FOR BIG RACES NEXT THURSDAY

TIJUANA RACE TRACK, Mex., Nov. 29.—Although the nominations for the six stakes of the Tijuana meeting do not close until Thursday, there has been such a rush on the part of the owners to nominate for the rich fixtures, that it is no wapparent that the nominations for each stake will exceed the totals of previous seasons. For these six stakes there will be $138,500 in added money, given by the Tijuana Jockey club.

The richest race of the meeting will be the Coffroth Handicap of Sunday, March 18. This will have $85,000 added money and with nomination and starting fees, will mean a winner's end of better than $100,000. Thus the Coffroth will again be the world's richest race for the thoroughbred.

Names of millionaire owners from the east and west are to be found in the list of those who have nominated some of the country's best distance horses for the Coffroth. While the complete list will not be compiled until the nominations close, many of the "big guns" of the turf already are represented.

Next in value to the Coffroth Handicap will be the Tijuana Derby and a record number of nominations for this is the forecast. The Derby, has $25,000 in added money.

This will be the eighth running of this three-year-old classic. It will be decided Sunday, March 4, coming just two weeks before the Coffroth. Thus it will come about that some of the Coffroth candidates, who are three-year-olds, will also make their appearance in the Derby. This was the case last year when Justice E., Sir Harry and Wandering Minstrel, who finished as named in the Derby, were among the Coffroth starters.

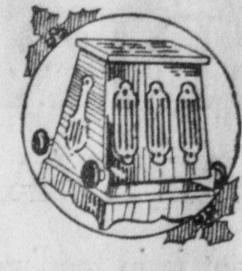

While Justice E. hung it on Sir Harry in the Derby, the latter came back two weeks later and took his conqueror's measure and defeated a tip-top field in the Coffroth, winning the 1½ mile stake in 2:03 2-5 and taking down $84,400 for the Seagram stable of Canada.

The Tijuana Cup, the longest race of the season, this being two miles, is the third richest. It will have $10,000 added money and will be run Sunday, March 25.

In addition to these three stakes, there will be the Tijuana Oaks, the Speed Handicap and the Tijuana Futurity—all with enough reward to bring out the cracks of winter racing.

EDWARD SUTHERLAND

Noted Director of Feature Photoplays, writes:

"I think Luckies are the greatest cigarettes in the world. I think so for two reasons: first, because I enjoy smoking and the flavor of Luckies is certainly in a class by itself—second, because I know I can smoke them freely and I never have to worry about any throat irritation. In directing such feature films as 'Firemen, Save My Child,' my voice, of course, is subjected to unusual strain. I must protect it."

MANY AVIATORS AFTER RECORD FOR ENDURANCE

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—A new endurance record is the latest goal of America's birdmen.

Six noted pilots today are tuning up new planes for attempts to lower the records of 52 hours and 28 minutes, set last summer by two German flyers. The German aviators stole the mark from Bert Acosta and Clarence Chamberlin, who had set a previous record in the spring.

William S. Brock has gone to Detroit to join his flying partner, Edward F. Schlee. The two round-the-world flyers, accompanied by another pilot, Richard R. Blythe, then will go to Daytona, Fla., and there attempt to add a few hours to the endurance mark.

"The Splitdorf," a Fokker Universal plane, also will be sent into the air for a new record. Bert Acosta and Emil Burgin have been selected to man the new plane, which will be named by Miss Elizabeth Robinson, 18-year-old daughter of Assistant Secretary of the Navy Theodore Douglas Robinson.

Another plane being made ready for the endurance flight is the Sunbeam-Detroiter of George Weiss Jr., and Lewis Saloman. This race will have its "dark horses" also. It is a new type Fairchild cabin monoplane, which is equipped with an engine of low gasoline consumption. If it can get a sufficient load of fuel off the ground, its owners say, it may remain up longer than 60 hours.

While these flights were in preparation, A. A. Martine, who heretofore has been a fellow aspirant for the endurance record, announced that instead of trying for this goal, he would pilot his new Bellanca toward the west coast in an attempt to win the $50,000 prize offered for a flight to China by way of Honolulu and Japan.

PERMIT ISSUED FOR BEACH WELL

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Nov. 29.—A permit for an oil drilling rig was issued by the city building inspector yesterday. Saunders and Naul are the new operators. The well is being sponsored by a former driller, according to reports. The new rig is to be built on Seventeenth street between Acacia and Magnolia avenues.

BOLSA

BOLSA, Nov. 29.—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Walker entertained at dinner Thanksgiving evening, the guests being Mr. and Mrs. Lafe Ross, Lee Ross, Mrs. Gladie Fuller and son Ralph Ross.

The family of Mrs. Olive McKnight gathered in her home Thursday for the holiday dinner, which was served at noon to Mr. and Mrs. William Buck, Walter Worthington, Miss Mary Worthington of Long Beach; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Freeman and Walter McKnight, of Los Angeles; Mrs. Olive McKnight and granddaughter, Meridith.

Mr. and Mrs. John Farnsworth were called to Escondido last week to the bedside of Mrs. Farnsworth's sister-in-law, Mrs. Vera Moss Howard. Mrs. Howard sustained severe burns when her clothing caught fire while she was cooking a meal at her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Farnsworth, who were accompanied to Escondido by Mrs. Farnsworth's sister, Mrs. D. T. Butler, and two children of Los Angeles and their mother, Mrs. Thomas Howard, of Silver Acres, were victims of an automobile accident on the way to Escondido. A reckless driver cut in, tearing the bumper from the Farnsworth car, wrecking the light and bending the fender.

The Japanese are building quite a large Sunday school room to their church west of town.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Sargent and Mr. and Mrs. Pysden were joined at dinner Thanksgiving by their son and brother, H. Sargent and family, of Pomona, came Wednesday evening, Jack Sargent motorizing to Pomona for them. Mrs. J. Sargent accompanied them home Saturday to remain a few days and Mr. and Mrs. Pysden joined them on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Gardner and daughter, Miss Margaret, motored to San Diego to attend the Santa Ana-San Diego football game. Myrtle and Dorothy Gardner remained with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Shutt, during the absence of the other members of the family.

Mrs. Bruce of Pomona, and Mrs. Gardner's two nieces, Reba and Ruth Benton, were luncheon guests Friday in the Gardner home prior to their departure for San Diego.

Word has been received from Mrs. Ralph Ross, who with her children has been spending several weeks at Bakersfield with Mrs. Ross' mother, Mrs. Fry, that Mrs. Mrs. Fry sustained a broken arm in a fall last week. Mrs. Fry is well known in Bolsa, being a frequent visitor in her daughter's home. Mrs. Ross and the boys plan on returning home within a week.

Mrs. M. G. Johnson, of Newport Beach, was a Friday visitor in the home of Mrs. J. D. Shutt. Mrs. Johnson brought the word that her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Johnson, the latter of whom is a granddaughter of Mrs. Shutt's, were leaving Seattle last Sunday to motor home after a visit with relatives there.

TAX COLLECTOR
WILL BE NAMED IN BEACH CITY

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Nov. 29.—Minor matters occupied the attention of city councilmen here last night. The decision to have a special clerk work for the city clerk to collect licenses and taxes and to check on buildings, dog licenses and other things which are now overlooked, was one of the most important items of business during the evening. The selection of a person to fill the place will be made at the next meeting of the body.

Cars Will Be Numbered

Orders were given last night by the city councilmen to have all city owned cars marked with a coat of arms of Huntington Beach, with each car numbered. An accurate check is to be kept on gasoline, oil, tires and mileage of each car and all city cars, except police cars, are to be placed in the city garage at night.

W. W. Chandler, county health officer, brought up the question of mosquito control in the swamp land around Huntington Beach. Most of the swamp land is owned privately and city officials instructed City Attorney A. J. Thedford to investigate the matter and see what steps could be taken.

Order School Signs

Welcome signs at the three main entrances to Huntington Beach were ordered posted by the city council. Signs are to be hung above the Coast highway at the city limits and another sign is to be hung above Main street. The sign matter has come before the council many times during the past few years and signs were put in place more than a year ago but later were torn down.

Councilmen ordered the city hall closed today in honor of the prominent aviators who visited the city.

O. R. Harris and J. W. Mitchell were appointed on a committee to arrange for the peace officers' banquet to be held here Dec. 7.

Gas Permit Issued

The O. C. Fields Gasoline corporation was issued a permit to lay dry gas lines and the General Petroleum corporation was issued a permit to run electric lines to permit rigs for the purpose of pumping the wells with electricity.

Members of the volunteer fire department invited city councilmen to a banquet to be staged by the firemen December 5. The councilmen accepted.

A meat inspection ordinance was given its first reading.

Six beds were ordered placed in the fire department quarters, where volunteer firemen will sleep. The move will provide a working crew for the fire apparatus at all times, it was reported.

Seek Piling Data

City Engineer Merwin Rosson was asked to secure data on the cost of cleaning and painting the pilings of the municipal pier.

Councilmen also took steps to change the speed limit on the coast boulevard through a portion of town. It was proposed to shorten the 15 mile zone from nine blocks to about four blocks. No definite action was taken.

Kiwanians
Directed By Their Wives

FULERTON, Nov. 29.—The meeting of the Kiwanis club yesterday was in charge of the members' wives. Mrs. Jess Hardy, wife of the president, was presiding in place of the regular club president, while Mrs. W. H. Wickert was song leader.

Mrs. Dale King was marshal of the day.

The principal speaker of the day was Mrs. Amelia Meagher, of the county health camp. She appealed for a generous response during the sale of Christmas seals, telling of the temporary home of the Baptists.

Later this building will be used as a Sunday school department.

The building is to be 48 by 30 with an auditorium 29 by 30, a kitchen and two smaller rooms that are to be used for supplies and teaching rooms. Plumbing and wiring of the building have been let to the Johnson Plumbing company and the Brea Electric company. Josiah Smith will be the foreman in charge of construction.

It is expected that the building will be completed by the first of the year, according to the pastor, the Rev. John J. Bell.

INSTALL O. E. S.
HEADS THURSDAY

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Nov. 29.—New officers of the Eastern Star chapter of Huntington Beach will be installed at a public ceremony Thursday evening, it was announced today. The installation will be held in the Odd Fellows hall.

Officers are as follows:

Mrs. Edith Lee, worthy matron; Mrs. Marion Conrad, associate matron; Mrs. Jean MacAdam, secretary; Mrs. Mary Ziegler, treasurer; Mrs. Blanch James, conductor; Mrs. Lena Heaston, associate conductor.

Appointive officers include Mrs. Edith McCool, marshal; Mrs. Marie Hare, organist; Mrs. Lois McCrosky, Ada; Miss Edith White, Ruth; Mrs. Anna Grable, Esther; Mrs. Gladys Hawes, Martha; Mrs. Eva Young, Electa; Mrs. Martha White, warden; Miss Nan Butler, flag bearer, and Warren James, sentinel.

DISTRICT REBEKAHS
CONVENE IN BREA

BREA, Nov. 29.—Trinity Rebekah lodge was hostess last night for the seven other Rebekah lodges of the district, members being present from Santa Ana, Anaheim, Fullerton, Huntington Beach, Westminster and Orange. Second nomination of officers for the coming term of six months was completed in the regular business sessions, after which a short program was presented by Trinity members.

Following the program refreshments were served and later those who wished enjoyed dancing for a short time.

Three Are Fined
By Newport Judge

NEWPORT BEACH, Nov. 29.—Police Judge W. A. Leonard had a busy day in court yesterday. Three persons were fined on charges of being intoxicated and one man, charged with possession of liquor, appeared before Judge Leonard.

The total consideration of the deal is said to have been $7500.

The property is better known in Brea as the Jewell estate and has a 100-foot frontage on Ash street with a large shop building formerly occupied by the Baash-Ross Tool company and more recently by the machine shop of Osborne and Toncray. Another large shop was added to the place by Osborne during his ownership of the property. The firm of Osborne and Toncray was dissolved a few months ago and Osborne continued alone for some time. He has now moved his forge and machinery to Hynes, where he is working in co-operation with another firm. Osborne is a resident of Montebello.

George F. Miller, of Santa Ana, and Blaine Cox, of Santa Ana, paid fines of $25. Both were charged with being intoxicated.

Ernest J. Tracies, of Tustin, was given his choice of paying a $25 fine or spending 25 days in jail when he appeared before Leonard on a charge of being intoxicated. He had not paid the money this morning, police reported.

George F. Miller, of Santa Ana, and Blaine Cox, of Santa Ana, paid fines of $25. Both were charged with being intoxicated.

H. M. Strickland, of Newport Beach, pleaded guilty to a charge of possession of liquor when brought into court. He was arrested Saturday night. Judge Leonard will pronounce sentence on Strickland today.

Ernest J. Tracies, of Tustin, was given his choice of paying a $25 fine or spending 25 days in jail when he appeared before Leonard on a charge of being intoxicated. He had not paid the money this morning, police reported.

George F. Miller, of Santa Ana, and Blaine Cox, of Santa Ana, paid fines of $25. Both were charged with being intoxicated.

Dances Planned
At Garden Grove

GARDEN GROVE, Nov. 29.—A series of dances will be held at the Woman's Civic clubhouse at Garden Grove, commencing Friday night. A mixed dance of modern and old time music will be featured. The "Haymakers" four-piece dance orchestra will furnish the music.

H. B. MAN JAILED

NEWPORT BEACH, Nov. 29.—L. J. Shepard, 40, of this city, was lodged in the city jail last night on charge of petty theft. Shepard was arrested while helping himself to some brass fittings, according to police. He will be brought into court today.

BREA BAPTIST CHURCH WORK
INAUGURATEDImprovement
Petitions
Circulated

LAGUNA BEACH, Nov. 29.—Those in charge of petitions being circulated for signatures to establish an improvement district to comprise Mermaid, Second and Third streets are meeting with much encouragement, according to Ed. M. DeAhna, who has taken the lead. It is expected that more than the 51 per cent minimum the city council requires will be obtained before the matter is brought officially before the city authorities.

METHODISTS WILL HEAR DR. CRIST

NORTHPORT BEACH, Nov. 29.—Dr. Clyde M. Crist, district superintendent of Methodist Episcopal churches, will be the speaker at the first quarterly conference of the Community Methodist church here tonight, it was announced today. The conference is to be held in the church at Balboa. The meeting will open at 6:30 p. m. with a pot luck dinner.

Following the dinner, church members will listen to an address by Dr. Crist and will hold a short business meeting. The Rev. W. H. Stockton, pastor of the local church, will be in charge of the program.

May Close Doors
Of Post Office

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Nov. 29.—Outer doors of the Huntington Beach post office may be closed at night in the near future, it was announced today, with the reading of a communication to the chamber of commerce yesterday asking for an expression. The matter was brought to the attention of chamber of commerce members by C. W. Conrad, postmaster.

Mrs. Mickey Hopkins, 25, of Huntington Beach, paid a fine of $25 when she appeared in court on a charge of being intoxicated.

BREA, SANTA ANA
PROPERTY TRADED

BREA, Nov. 29.—George Osborne, who some months ago purchased the lot and shop buildings at the northwest corner of Orange and Ash streets, has traded his equity in the properties for a five-room stucco house in Santa Ana belonging to E. S. Gregory. The total consideration of the deal is said to have been $7500.

The property is better known in Brea as the Jewell estate and has a 100-foot frontage on Ash street with a large shop building formerly occupied by the Baash-Ross Tool company and more recently by the machine shop of Osborne and Toncray. Another large shop was added to the place by Osborne during his ownership of the property. The firm of Osborne and Toncray was dissolved a few months ago and Osborne continued alone for some time. Work On Laguna
Club Begins Soon

LAGUNA BEACH, Nov. 29.—Work on the Community club house, including plastering inside, tiles for the roof, stucco, and the addition of a wing with at least two rooms, is to be started this week. It has been decided to do the work by day labor instead of contract. Work will be supervised by Ed. Bishop.

LAGUNA CLUB MOVES

LAGUNA BEACH, Nov. 29.—Removal of the log cabins from the property of the Library association with the intention of placing a reading room on the lot has made it necessary for the Recreation club to find new quarters. It has moved to a room on the boulevard next to Lynn theater.

GETTY TO BEGIN ON SEAL BEACH
DERRICK SOON

LAGUNA BEACH, Nov. 29.—George F. Getty, oil operator, has placed lumber for a derrick to be erected on Ocean avenue between Third and Fourth streets, it was learned today from a reliable source.

Getty has a large number of lots under lease in the district near the ocean and is convinced that the long sought Seal Beach pool is in the vicinity.

Erection of the derrick is scheduled to start within a few days, with active drilling operations under way by December 18, according to reports.

OLINDA YOUTHS
CONFESS THEFTS

BREA, Nov. 29.—Following an appeal from an Olinda man for the recovery of his car, stolen from his home, Chief of Police W. H. Williams found the machine in a field near the Brea airport and near the car an Olinda lad who, on being questioned, admitted his connection with a gang of seven Olinda boys who have been stripping cars and doing other acts of pretty thievery during the past two months. Each boy has confessed his part and they have been cited to the county juvenile officers for correction. Tires, tubes, generators, gasoline, distillate and dynamite are among the articles they confessed taking. Victims of their depredations are the General Petroleum, the West Coast, the C. C. M. O., and the Union Oil companies, as well as private citizens living in and near Olinda. Chief Williams has returned most of the stolen loot but several articles have not yet been claimed.

Dr. Jehle is not solely intent on better beans, however, and is enjoying a vacation with his parents before going to Sacramento and thence to Maryland. He expects to be in California for about six weeks.

Sales Start On Christmas Seals

BREA, Nov. 29.—The annual sale of Christmas seals is under way in Brea under the direction of the Orange County Tuberculosis association, with Frank Mason acting as chairman for this district. A letter has been mailed to most of the homes in this district. According to Mason, facts and figures show that the fight against tuberculosis is gaining ground but that the future control of the disease depends upon the number of seals sold each year.

Miss Marian Glenn, of 711 Thirteenth street, was slightly injured when machines driven by S. A. Hurd, of 4011 Massachusetts avenue, Long Beach, and D. W. Snow, of Huntington Beach, collided. The accident happened at Thirteenth street and Orange avenue.

E. E. Rutledge was slightly injured in an accident near Talbert, according to a report at the police station.

Beach City
Co-Operates
On Charity

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Nov. 29.—Local charity work sponsored by civic clubs and the local chamber of commerce is to be combined this year, it was announced yesterday at a regular meeting of the local chamber of commerce. A committee composed of Charles G. Boster, L. C. Denslow and E. G. Conrad was appointed to represent the chamber of commerce in the charity movement. The committee will co-operate with committees from other civic organizations, and all charity work will be handled by the committees during the Christmas season, it was reported.

Reports on the air meet being held in Huntington Beach today occupied the major portion of time at the meeting yesterday.

W. B. Mandeville, president of the organization, presided.

All of the instruments now in use are to be supplanted by those which will require no cranking in order to attract the attention of the operator. It is said that many numbers will be changed and that negotiations are under way to extend trunk lines to Coast Royal and perhaps to Three Arches.

LAGUNA BEACH
TELEPHONES TO BE READY SOON

LAGUNA BEACH, Nov. 29.—Work of installing a new telephone system, which has been under way for about six weeks, with new poles erected and new cables strung, has reached the point where instruments and new switchboard are being installed in the telephone building.

All of the instruments now in use are to be supplanted by those which will require no cranking in order to attract the attention of the operator. It is said that many numbers will be changed and that negotiations are under way to extend trunk lines to Coast Royal and perhaps to Three Arches.

LAGUNA BAND TO RENDER CONCERT

LAGUNA BEACH, Nov. 29.—A public concert by the Children's Marine band is planned for December 8 at the Cabrillo ball room with the purpose of arousing general interest in the organization and if possible securing additional recruits. This is the largest musical organization of Laguna Beach, being under the management of Director C. A. Mendenhall.

Laguna Neighbors
Elect December 7

LAGUNA BEACH, Nov. 29.—Election of officers for the ensuing year will be held by the Royal Neighbors at their meeting December 7.

Teams have been chosen to work for new members, headed by Mrs. Reed and Mrs. Hacklander, the contest to last until Feb. 1.

Evening Bridge Party
Yields Pretty Gift
To Bride-elect

Complimenting Miss Margaret Hutchings, a much feted bride-elect who on December 1 will wed Clyde A. Martin, Miss Beth Nunn entertained at an attractive party late last week in the Nunn home at 1814 North Main street.

The hostess had bridge tables in readiness for her guests, and when the scores were tallied, Miss Sara Hales held high, and received a handsome bronze bowl on teakwood base, Miss Betty Finch, with low score, was given a small vial of fine perfume. Miss Hutchings received guest prize, a handsome pitcher and goblets, selected for her as the gift of her assembled friends.

Miss Nunn arranged the card tables artistically for serving a two-course supper as the final feature of the pleasant evening. Her guests included in addition to the honoree, Miss Hutchings, Miss Frances Langdon and Miss Noydine Warner of Long Beach, Mrs. Thomas Renfro, Miss Marie McDonald, Miss Betty Finch, Miss Madelyn Gardner, Miss Sara Hales, Miss Murrell Knox and Miss Mary Wah.

Piano Recital

A large group of interested friends assembled in the Earl Fraser studio Saturday evening, to hear an irreproachably rendered piano program, in which Minnie Phillips Heard presented a youthful pupil, Miss Esther Vogt.

The 12-year-old little maid is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. V. Vogt of 708 East Sixth street, and her playing of a classical program delighted the musicians and friends gathered for the event.

Their appreciation was expressed in flowers, many handsome bouquets and bouquets being showered on the young artist.

The program opened with two Mozart numbers, "Fantasia, No. 1 in D minor" and "Rondo in D major." A Chopin group followed,

"Mazurka in B flat major," "Nocturne, Opus 9, No. 2," and "Waltz in D flat."

Four Grieg compositions concluded the evening, "Antar's Dance," "Nocturne, Opus 54, No. 4," "Dance Caprice" and "Butterfly."

All were played from memory, and showed Miss Esther's interpretative skill, her rendering of the Chopin Waltz and Grieg's "Butterfly" being especially remarked for their finish and speed.

Returns to School After Brief Holiday

Miss Kay Chandler, a student at the Girls' Collegiate school, Glendale, returned to her studies after a pleasant holiday visit in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Chandler, 302 South Birch street.

A feature of the Thanksgiving recess was the luncheon and matinee party at which Miss Chandler entertained a little group of her classmates, Saturday in Los Angeles.

Adding to the interest of her program was the fact that translations of the songs were distributed, so that everyone could follow the words.

"Die Forelle" by Schubert; "Maimacht" by Brahms; "Ein Traum" by Grieg; "Beau Soir" by Debussy; "Clair de Lune" by Seulc; "Serenade Italienne" by Chausson; "The Yellow Duck" by Horsman; "Soft-frosted Snow" by Lie and "Oriental" by Bauer, were her programmed numbers, but Mrs. Barnard added two, singing the quaintly charming "Long Long Ago" and the poignant "A Memory."

Miss Ruth Armstrong played all accompaniments for the soloist in her irreproachable manner.

Candle Delights Crowd

Kathryn Warner Barnard was the chief entertainer, and everyone was glad to welcome the silver voiced singer's return to the Ebell platform. Her program was an unusually interesting one, and well designed to show the range and powers of her voice, and her gift of interpretation. Her voice has a cool crystal quality that is delightful. She sings with perfect ease, and a clear and limpid tone that made the sweetly melancholy numbers of yesterday's program, seem like something heard in a dream.

Charming Color Effect

Flanking the small table, were two long tea tables, covered with beautiful Italian linens, one table glowing with rich old brasses from candelabra to the tea services employed while the other was all in rose pink with silver appointments, again emphasizing the club colors of pink and gold. Mrs. Leonard G. Swales and Mrs. F. W. Slabaugh presided at one table, Miss Lula Minter and Mrs. Robert Tuthill at the other.

Remaining board members are

Mrs. W. H. Haddon, Mrs. Archie V. Herr, Mrs. J. H. Metzgar, Mrs. E. B. Sprague, Mrs. Good Adams and Mrs. W. B. Williams, who aided in dispensing hospitality.

While the guests chatted and enjoyed the delectable tea menu, a succession of lovely melodies was played by a trio comprised of Alan Revill, piano, Miss Georgie Belle Walton, violin and Edward Burns, cello.

Dinner Party Honors

Birthday

Mrs. N. P. Heydon who has been visiting friends in Santa Ana for some time plans to return to her home in Idaho this week.

Mr. and Mrs. John Spangler of Los Angeles, returned home yesterday after spending the weekend here with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Spangler, of 623 North Ross street.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Rutan and family of 416 South Birch street and Mr. and Mrs. John Dunlap of Montebello spent the week-end at Big Bear valley.

Barker Woodard of Santa Barbara spent the week-end here at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Rash of 1045 West Fifth street.

Charles L. Davis, who underwent an operation at the Santa Ana Valley hospital two weeks ago is now convalescing at his home, 1313 North Broadway.

Mrs. Guy Gardner of 1805 East Fourth street who was injured in a fall, has recovered.

"Foundations"

Mrs. Bartlett made a brief talk on "Foundations," asserting that even though the little group of women had founded Ebell society 33 years ago, it remained for the present day members to build worthily upon that foundation. She declared that the same ideals were in effect, and that she hoped Ebell would ever keep her organization free from the unrest now endangering clubs, homes and cities, closing with the words "May we all hold ever above our club, the white banner on which is inscribed Loyalty to Our Country and Our God."

Mrs. E. D. Buss who was the club's second president, brought

The WOMAN'S DAY by AILENE SUMNER

Some of our bright young men who make their living, and a good one, too, by going about the country lecturing to women's clubs on the various arts, have the cute little habit—at least they must think it's cute—of saying smart-alecky things about women, especially organized women. Louis Bromfield, for instance, out on a well-paid tour, gave many a reporter "good copy" with his wise-cracks about the monotonous, peas-in-a-pod questions which women ask him about his novels.

"THESE WOMEN!"
Now another fair-haired boy, Richard Halliburton, is out on the same kind of a money-making jaunt. He leaves a lecture before some woman's club which has paid him several hundred dollars, to make fun of the dear ladies behind their backs, and to brag of the 11 answers which he had ready for the only 11 questions that they had brains enough to ask.

GOOSE HAD GOLDEN EGG
Now I know just as well as Louise and Dick the club woman mind, and ordinarily like it just as little. But it is one thing to criticize when one is not exploiting them, and another thing to do it when, just because of their guiliness, they are making it possible for a couple of youngsters to live well. After all, one never hears of men's clubs inviting these young artists to deign to accept a few hundred dollars and a chicken pattice luncheon in exchange for a few choice words. You may be killing the goose that lays the golden egg, boys!

HAR, HAR!
Thank goodness, the woman juror who talked in the Ford-Sapiro trial and caused a mistrial has been matched by the male street car conductor who told what the male juror in the Gall-Sinclair trial said. Now all the boys who warbled about the Ford woman and spread their remark of "Just what you can expect with women on the juries!" may keep still for a while while "us girls" say "Just what you can expect with men on juries!" Maybe some day we'll learn that both men and women act as human beings and not as men or women.

NICE RUTHIE
Ruth Elder's put her foot in it now! She did not turn down her wine glass at the American Club where she was guest of honor the other day, dispatches say. My, my, the letters that will be sent to her about that—"Disgracing America," and so on. I'm inclined to think, however, that a young lady who observes the conventions of other countries does much more as a good will emissary than one who scorns their modes and manners while flaunting our own in their faces.

CAPSULE MEALS
Capsule meals continue to be talked about. One scientist after another retires to his laboratory, emerging not until he can bring with him a capsule of breakfast, lunch and dinner. They say that in the future a man will carry his meals around in his pocket—so many capsules of carbohydrates, vitamins and proteins. Good cooks will give way to good chemists, and wives as housekeepers will not be needed at all.

Most scientific promises for the future look rosy, this is sad and tragic indeed. For who would exchange mother's warm apple pie with mild cheese for a vial of chemical formula, or roast turkey and cranberries for another one? I weep.

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN — PICTURES BY KNICK

Down at the bottom of the feet dunce," one little Buddy loudly cried. "What say we take a swim? As long as we are soaking wet, we would enjoy it, I'll just bet. I'll race with anybody here. I feel in perfect trim."

So Clowny sat upon the shore. The little Buddies made him roar. They'd do a lot of water tricks, then jump and laugh and shout. Then someone yelled, "I've had enough. I've grown so tired it makes me puff. Let's all run up on shore and dry. It's time we were out."

Then Clowny surely was surprised. When they came out he realized that they had turned from black to white. The water washed them clean. "Oh, now we'll be good, not bad," one Buddy said. "Gee, I'm glad. Whenever we are white it makes us nice instead of mean."

(The Good Buddies give Clowny a ride in the next story.)

Beauty Chats

BY EDNA KENT FORBES

There are a great many blemishes of the skin which should not be treated at home, nor by doctors who have not specialized along these lines. Chief among these are moles and moth spots, some of which should not be touched at all. A good dermatologist will know which should not be removed.

The little flat surfaced brown moles are easily removed, so are the raised ones that are colorless.

Warts usually dry up and slough off, but if they annoy before that time, have a doctor remove them.

Moth patches are as harmless as warts, but they are blemishes and can be bleached off by applying moistened baking soda every day until they have disappeared. A doctor may bleach them off more quickly than this method, but it is not safe for any one to experiment with strong bleaches.

Freckles are not considered blemishes but if there is a dislike for them, some bleaching may be done with cucumber or lemon juice. Bruises should also be avoided and scars not allowed to remain.

The scars from pimples or blackheads should be treated by some soothing and bleaching lotion.

Witch hazel is excellent for this, or peroxide and witch hazel in equal parts when much bleaching is necessary.

D. M.—You are probably a bit run down to have lines at 17 years of age and of course, these are temporary and will be gone as soon as you build up again. The pimples are probably the result of indigestion. They, too, will go if you rest up or take a suitable tonic.

Denies Movies
Cause Of Crime

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—After probing the mental life of many wayward boys and girls, Dr. Louis E. Bisch, medical psychologist of New York Polyclinic Medical school, has reached the conclusion that charges of stimulating crime and incorrigibility made against the movies are unjustified.

Psychoanalysis has shown in every case examined that not motion pictures, books nor any other outward influence, but the innate moral weakness of the individual himself is directly to blame for wayward tendencies, declares Dr. Bisch.

"A spectator will respond to a picture only if there is something in his own character make-up which is similar to that which he sees," explains the psychoanalyst. "If what he sees is totally foreign to what he instinctively feels, the scene, whatever it is, will leave him absolutely unmoved."

'WUZZER' DEFINED;
'WOFFLER' WEIGHER

LONDON, Nov. 29.—A "wuzzer" is a man who minds a hydro-extracting machine by putting wet cloth or yarn into a revolving cage which throws off the moisture. He is also known as a "whizzer," a "swisser" and a "buzzzer."

But for a dictionary of occupational terms few people outside the wuzzers and their immediate families and friends would know that the wuzzers, whizzers, swissers and buzzers were all the same.

The work contains 564 pages of close type, gives 29,106 terms and actually defines 16,887 occupations.

A "woffler" is a man who weighs pairs scales and other weighing machines, a whim-drivers drives a whim—a horse-driven capstan for raising ore or water from a mine—and a riffler is a file forger who makes special concave forgings for files known as rifflers.

A "whipping girl" is not a victim of the lash, but does the whipping as she whips or binds cloth on a small machine to prevent fraying.

The cask smellers are attached to breweries. They smell cleaned casks to see that they are sweet.

THEY'RE LOOKING FOR NEW MEMBER

Work is over for the day at the Hal Roach Studios, Culver City, Calif., and so "OUR GANG" goes home. Looks as though Joe Cobb does all the work around there, doesn't it? But he's good-natured, as all fat boys are. Who will be the next member of the famous "Gang"? Someone will be the lucky winner of the great West Coast-Hal Roach contest being conducted throughout West Coast Theaters circuit, with the West Coast-Walker theater conducting it locally.

EIGHT DIVORCE
DEGREES GIVEN
IN S. A. COURT

Myrtle just skipped out. That is what Henry C. Loptien claims he was told by a member of her family when he began a search for his lost wife. Today he has an interlocutory decree of divorce against her, one of eight awarded within the last few days in the superior court.

Myrtle Loptien does not seem to have enjoyed much admiration from her relatives, for her husband said she had been forbidden to enter the home of her sister-in-law. Loptien won his decree on a charge of desertion. They had been married five months when she is said to have left him.

In a letter written to Mrs. Ella M. Hersey, and introduced as evidence in her suit for divorce against G. H. Hersey, he declared that if she wanted a divorce, he would pay half the cost. Mrs. Hersey now has the interlocutory decree on grounds of desertion. They were married November 26, 1923, and separated the following March.

Ernest Alvarez claimed that he had found another man visiting his wife, Ella Alvarez, when he went to see his children after their separation. The visitor beat him up, according to his story. But this was only a sequel to the alleged attacks made on him by his wife when she threw dishes at him while he was around their home. She wouldn't go to church, he said, but insisted on his taking her to dances, where she would spend the evening with other men. The husband won an interlocutory decree of divorce.

Failure to provide was alleged as the basis for an action which won a decree for Mrs. Myrtle Bishop against James Bishop. She alleged that he had deserted her. They were married in 1911 and separated in 1920.

Mrs. Isabel Cota has won a legal separation from Frank Cota following her declaration that he had failed to support her and that he dissipated habitually. They were married in April, 1924, and separated the following August.

Drunkenness and failure to provide were charged by Mrs. Ella Byxbe against Harvey Byxbe in a suit which has won her an interlocutory decree of divorce. They were married in 1893 and separated last October.

Cruelty and association with other women, said to have been the marital faults of Merville Haag, resulted in a decree for his wife, Cornelia P. Haag. They were married in 1925 and separated in October.

Charging desertion, Henry J. Fowler has been given an interlocutory decree of divorce from Marie A. Fowler. They were married in 1921 and separated in 1924.

French Ads Are

PARIS, Nov. 28.—Advertising in France has gone into the gutter. As one crosses the boulevard after midnight a sudden glare from a place where the curbstone ought to attract the eye.

On a thick piece of glass is the advice:

"Send Your Winter on the Riviera."

The glass contains a mercury light. It gained the approval of the Paris municipal council when the Riviera advertisers said the light can be seen in a fog, thereby acting as a warning to autoists.

IMPORTANT FACTS ABOUT THE NEW FORD CAR

Complete details of the new model will be available this FRIDAY in this city

FRIDAY of this week will unquestionably be one of the most important days in the entire life of the automobile industry. On that day, complete details of the new Ford will be available in this city.

You will be surprised when you get the facts about the new Ford car, for you never have dreamed that such a really fine car could be produced at a low price. As Henry Ford himself says—

"The new Ford car embodies the best results of our experience in making 15,000,000 automobiles. We consider it our most important contribution thus far to the progress of the motor industry, to the prosperity of the country, and to the daily welfare of millions of people."

The new Ford car is distinctly a new and modern car, designed to meet new and modern conditions. It is more than a new automobile. It is the advanced expression of a wholly new idea in modern, economical transportation.

An entirely new car in every respect

The minute you see it—ride in it—you will realize that it is not a mere refinement of the former model T Ford, but a new car from radiator cap to rear axle! Many features of it are exclusive Ford developments. Some are wholly new in

The new Ford car has exceptional beauty of line and color. It is, in every respect, a new and modern car, designed and created to meet modern conditions.

automobile practice. There is nothing quite like it in quality and price.

The new Ford car has unusual beauty of line and color. . . . It has a 40-horse-power engine. . . . It will do 55 and 60 miles an hour with ease and has actually run 65 miles an hour on road tests. . . . It is quiet and smooth-running at all speeds. . . . It is remarkably quick on the get-away. . . . It has specially designed mechanical four-wheel brakes. . . . It has hydraulic shock absorbers. . . . It has a standard, selective gear shift. . . . It is quick and easy to handle in traffic and steady and sure on the open road. . . . It runs 20 to 30 miles on a gallon of gasoline, depending on your speed. . . . And it has the stamina and reliability that you need for mile-after-mile and year-after-year service.

The new Ford car will sell at a surprisingly low price

When you think of such features as these, you think instinctively of a car costing much more than the new Ford. The low price is as unusual as the appearance and performance of the car itself.

The low prices of the six body types are undoubtedly lower than you thought they would be when you first heard that Ford was making a new car. They are, in fact, lower than we thought they could possibly be when we started to make this car.

We determined to bring new comfort, beauty, speed, safety, economy and reliability within reach of everybody who drives a car, and then forced ourselves to find ways to make the low prices possible.

The new Ford car is the result of years of careful planning. Every part of it has been tested and retested in actual practice. There is no guessing as to whether it will be a successful model. It has to be. There

The new Ford has unusual speed and power. It will do 55 and 60 miles an hour with ease and has run 65 miles an hour on road tests.

is no way it can escape being so, for it is the sum total of all we have learned about motor car building in the lifetime of the Ford business.

Some of the features of the new Ford car

In this connection we call your particular attention to the new engine; the new pump, splash and gravity oil system; the multiple dry-disc clutch; the new pump and thermo-syphon cooling system; the new battery, coil and distributor ignition; the low center of gravity and minimum unsprung weight which combine with the hydraulic shock absorbers to make the new Ford such an easy-riding car; the irreversible steering gear, with the column and the housing of the steering gear mechanism welded into a single all-steel unit; the seamless, all-steel torque tube; the new one-piece, welded, steel-spoke wheels; the three-quarters-floating rear axle in a forged-steel housing of exceptional strength; the theft-proof coincidental lock; and the aluminum pistons which were selected after many tests because of their light weight and heat-conducting qualities.

"The new Ford car embodies the best results of our experience in making 15,000,000 automobiles. We consider it our most important contribution thus far to the progress of the motor industry, to the prosperity of the country, and to the daily welfare of millions of people."

Henry Ford

Steel forgings are used throughout except, of course, for the engine castings. More steel forgings, in fact, are used in the new Ford than in almost any other car, regardless of price.

WE ARE able to sell this new Ford car at a low price because we have found new ways to give you greater value without a great increase in our own costs. Because we own our own ore mines, coal mines and timber lands and the source of most of our raw materials. Because we make virtually every part used in the new Ford car. Because it is the Ford policy to make a small profit on a large number of cars, rather than a large profit on a small number of cars.

There is nothing like it in quality and price

No other manufacturer can possibly duplicate the new Ford car at the Ford price because no other manufacturer does business the way we do. The public made this business possible. We believe we should share our profits with the public by continually giving greater and greater value for the money.

There are good and substantial reasons, therefore, why the new Ford car is the most unusual value ever offered in a low-price car.

By all means, learn about the new Ford on Friday when it is officially announced in this city. You will know then that there is nothing quite like it anywhere in quality and price.

EXPERT TELLS IMPROVEMENTS IN AGRICULTURE

CHICAGO, Nov. 29.—Statistics prove that the farmer is keeping pace in efficiency with the merchant and manufacturer. Charles J. Brand, former chief of the bureau of markets of the U. S. department of agriculture, told the National Association of Commissioners, Secretaries and Departments of Agriculture, in convention here.

"The average farm worker cultivates 33 acres now, while in 1880 the average was 20 acres," he pointed out.

"In 1900 a litter of pigs weighing 1200 pounds at the age of eight months was an accomplishment. Nowadays one ton litters are common and there have been two-ton litters."

"We used to think 150 eggs a year from a hen was remarkable. Now whole flocks average over 200 and many individuals produce more than 300."

"Since 1890 farmers have increased their yields of wheat by 17 per cent, oats by 14 per cent and potatoes by 39 per cent."

"In 1850 the horse power per farm was 14, he said. In 1925 it had increased more than 300 per cent to 45."

"In 1870 the production of grain per man per acre in the United States was 12,000 pounds; in 1925 it was about 25,000 pounds," he continued.

"We should not produce a greater aggregate quantity of farm products than at present, because we already suffer from over production. We must learn to produce the crops we do grow at a lesser cost per unit of production. Greater production at the same cost will only intensify present troubles."

National Singing Honors Sought By West Coast Pair

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 29.—National honors constitute the next goal of Miss Emilia Daprato, 20-year-old soprano, of South San Francisco, and Ted A. Roy, 21-year-old tenor of Oregon State college, winners in the far western radio audition contest.

They will go to New York to represent the far west in the national contest December 11.

A total of 167,291 votes from an estimated total of 4,000,000 listeners was received here by station KFO in the far western contest.

Clerks Compelled To Sell Hunting, Angling Permits

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 29.—The attorney general has ruled that all county clerks are compelled to sell hunting and angling licenses and that they may retain a certain commission for their own use.

The decision came from Charles A. Wetmore Jr., and was addressed to the state fish and game commission. Several county clerks, it was revealed, had refused to sell the licenses causing great inconvenience to hunters and fishermen.

SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT IS SPEAKER BEFORE BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL WOMEN

"The problem of fitting our boys and girls for earning their own living in manhood and womanhood, is one that is up to the public schools of today," declared J. A. Cranston, city superintendent of schools, in a thought-provoking address yesterday at noon, before the Business and Professional Women's club.

It was the usual Monday meeting at St. Ann's Inn, and Superintendent Cranston was introduced as guest of honor, to speak on "Vocational Guidance and Training." The problem, as he sees it, is one that the present school system is seeking to solve by beginning vocational training as far as the seventh grade, or first year in classes in vocational guidance, in a junior high school, where the first introduced.

"Too many young people have graduated from high school, with no idea of what they were going to do in the future, and too many people of today are filling positions for which they have no real aptitude," declared the speaker.

"It used to be that the question of vocation was confined to young men alone. The girl students were not concerned with the business world, but would step from the school room into a home. For the boys, there were two favorite vocations, the ministry and the law. Now that is changed. There are scores of vocations open, and as many are needed for the girls, as for the boys. Here is where the school courses are of inestimable value."

"In our high school training, we have three lines of procedure for placing young men. We have a printing shop, machine and auto shops, and in each of the three, the students are given extra time in which to go out of school into actual establishments, and get their added experience as an aid to future endeavors.

"Our senior high schools are becoming more and more, finishing schools for young people, as few of those who complete high school, go on to college. So it is essential that they be given training for various trades and occupations. The logical thing would be a county trade school, in which students might obtain training in lines that are impossible in an ordinary high school."

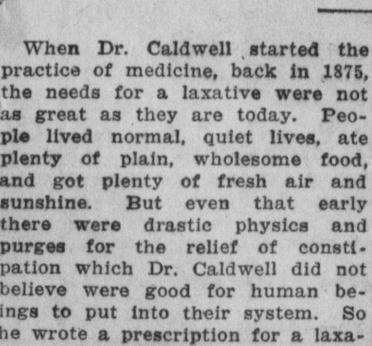

Following his talk, Mr. Cranston answered the many questions propounded by the interested club-women. Miss Dorothea Smith of Frances Willard junior high school, was introduced and presented in turn, Esther Vost, accompanist, and Raymond Nowotny, soloist, in the school operetta, "All Babes and the Forty Thieves," to be given at Polytechnic high school auditorium Thursday and Friday nights. Raymond sang one of the songs which he will sing in his role of "Mustapha," with Miss Esther at the piano, and then gave a brief talk explaining the operetta and its prices. The club-women's enjoyment of his excellent singing was warmly expressed.

Mrs. Laura Murray, president, read a letter from the district president, Mrs. Una L. Winter, voicing her appreciation of the recent reciprocity dinner at which the Santa Ana B. P. W. were hosts. The president appointed Miss Vanche Plumb as club representative to meet with other service club members and the board of education, in the high school administration building Tuesday night, December 6. O. S. Hull and W. S. Ford of the University of Southern California will be present to talk on a physical and educational survey in the interests of a scientific building program.

Prescription He Wrote in 1892 is the World's Most Popular Laxative

When Dr. Caldwell started the practice of medicine, back in 1875, the needs for a laxative were not as great as they are today. People lived normal, quiet lives, ate plenty of plain, wholesome food, and got plenty of fresh air and sunshine. But even that early there were drastic physics and purges for the relief of constipation which Dr. Caldwell did not believe were good for human beings to put into their system. So he wrote a prescription for a laxative to be used by his patients.

The prescription for constipation that he used early in his practice, and which he put in drug stores in 1892 under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsi, is a liquid vegetable remedy, intended for women, children and elderly people, and they need just such a mild, gentle bowel stimulant as Syrup Pepsi.

Under successful management this prescription has proven its worth and is now the largest selling liquid laxative in the world. The fact that millions of bottles are used a year prove that it has won the confidence of people who needed it to get relief from headaches, biliousness, flatulence, indigestion, loss of appetite and sleep, bad breath, dyspepsia, colds and fevers. Millions of families are now never without Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsi, and if you will once start using it you will also always have a bottle handy for emergencies.

Winter Lawn Care

Numerous inquiries are being made in regard to the treatment of lawns at present. Unfortunately our local lawns become practically overrun with Bermuda grass in about two years after planting. This is inevitable and we might as well prepare for it once we set out a new lawn.

Seedsmen and lawn builders are frequently blamed for the appearance of this noxious weed in many lawns. Such criticism is not well placed. All seed is tested and bears a government tag regarding such tests. Upon examination you will find marketable seed bearing a tag showing no noxious weeds.

Blue grass purity will average 80 per cent or better. This does not mean that the other 20 per cent is weeds. It is foul matter, such as chaff, etc., which cannot be eliminated in preparing a light seed like blue grass.

The source of our Bermuda grass trouble is in the heavy infection throughout the country in fields, and city lots. The seed are easily spread and germinated.

Treatment

To maintain a good lawn it becomes necessary to treat it at least every two years. The treatment is what is known as Bermuda raking or lawn raking. This year it is becoming more professional and is called rejuvenating.

Special Bermuda rakes may be purchased for eliminating this grass. It is a hard task and leaves a very sorry looking lawn for a time.

In some instances the entire turf is removed with a hoe, spade or other satisfactory implement.

Power tools are being used more and more. Several makers of machines known as garden rejuvenators are operating in Southern California this winter. All these methods have the same purpose—the elimination of Bermuda.

Once this is done, by whatever method, a good sowing of grass seed with a heavy per cent of white clover is necessary. This should have a good dressing of fertilizer. When this is accomplished it is only a short while until a green lawn appears.

To those who have experienced this process it is readily understood. To others of more recent residence it seems absurd to thoroughly tear up a lawn every year or two. But such is the case and we should accept it as readily as we do house repairs and repaint jobs, although for some reason the public is reluctant to accept repetition of garden work. There is a common belief that once a garden is planted there should be no altering or replanting.

In many cases when the lawn is being raked a great deal of improvement may be accomplished around the shrubbery. The lawn has perhaps reached back under the planting. This can be remedied by spading around the shrubs and out into the lawn to a sufficient distance to permit mowing the lawn without interfering with the plants. It will be found that such work improves the appearance of both lawn and plants.

DRIVER LOSES LICENSE AND GETS BIG FINE

Manuel Aguaya, 411 Daisy street, was given a $250 fine and his driver's license suspended for a period of 30 days when he pleaded guilty to reckless driving in City Recorder J. F. Talbott's court yesterday.

Aguaya was arrested soon after an automobile accident on South Main street, Sunday night, in which Mrs. Guy W. Gardner, and Miss Gussie Lee Gibson, both of 1605 East Fourth street, were injured. A charge of driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor was reduced to a reckless driving charge when Aguaya was brought into court.

Aguaya paid the fine.

Mrs. Gardner and Miss Gibson both were recovering from their injuries today.

Let's Give George Dunton More than a Cheer

I have known all the time when these Fords were going to make their appearance. Henry tipped me off, but he asked me if I would not hold it and let the other reporters have a look-in on some "news breaks" and I kindly consented. If you would have asked me personally for the facts, however, I would have given them to you.

Now, here is Mr. Dunton, who has really got a job again. If he determined to go out and have a real celebration of the old-fashioned style, he ought to be forgiven, providing he took me along.

It doesn't take much of a man to carry on a business that is going, but when a fellow can still keep sweet, wear a smile, and pull down his vest without any business for ten months, and then spit on his hands and begin all over again as Dunton is doing, he deserves all he is going to get and we believe that is a plenty. It takes a man to smile in the face of such conditions.

Henry told me that he was going to let some fellows have their choice of tires. He knows that some don't know good tires when they see 'em, but the fellow that has a real eye and who has his car equipped up to the handle, will demand what Henry is only too glad to furnish—GOODYEAR'S—the world's greatest tire.

It is particularly pleasing to know that the most of it is bought by mothers for themselves and the children, though Syrup Pepsi is just as valuable for elderly people. All drug stores have the generous bottles.

We would be glad to have you prove at our expense how much Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsi can mean to you and yours. Just write "Syrup Pepsi," Monticello, Illinois, and we will send you prepaid a FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE.

Interesting News Of The Day Told In Pictures

Cupid scored a quick touchdown when Harold D. Cothran (inset), captain of the Lafayette college football team, led his eleven to Washington to cross punts with Georgetown. Lafayette lost, BUT—Cothran met Peggy Tackett (above), co-ed at George Washington university—and married her two days later!

Deepening lines in President Coolidge's face, as remarkable shown above in his newest picture, seem to indicate that when he said he "did not choose to run" in 1928, he was a tired man, speaking his feelings. The stern worried expression in the central picture of the group contrasts strikingly with that of 1920, when he was elected chief executive. The pictures tell their own story.

This image of "Paul Revere" is in reality a small cedar tree in the yard of a resident of Crete, Neb., who has trained the trees in his yard to represent various figures. All's companions in this strange museum are a peacock, a setter dog, a camel, a rabbit and an elephant.

Diana used the cross-bow to slay her prey, they say, but Martha Suiste, 16, of Pilot Rock Ore., needs only a rock or two. The girl, who herds sheep on the ranch of her widowed mother, is pictured here with two bob cats she killed with rocks.

For $27,000 in cash and securities, these two youths killed an aged woman, according to their confession to St. Louis police. They are Leonard Cota (left) of Benettsville, Ia., and Harold Cramer of Great Falls, Mont. The victim, Leonard's grandmother, a Mrs. McKittrick of Zwingle, Ia., kept large sums in the house. Heavily rouged, and with hair marcelled, the youths aroused the suspicions of St. Louis police.

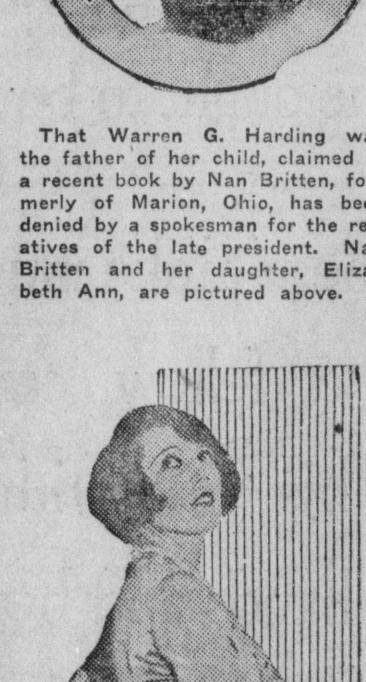

The city of Knoxville, Tenn., was proud when triplets were born to the Johnson family. But it wasn't long before Limestone, Tenn., reported to the world the birth of quadruplets, so Limestone is prouder still. The quadruplets, like the triplets, have been named for the Roosevelt family, Theodore, Kermit, Archibald and Alice Longworth. Mr. and Mrs. Sam Chass are parents of the foursome.

REPORT OF INSULAR CHIEF OPTIMISTIC

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—Conditions in the Philippine Islands and Porto Rico are improving, according to the annual report of Major General Frank McIntyre, chief of the insular affairs bureau.

"The governor general reports, as the result of numerous inspection trips to all parts of the (Philippine) archipelago, the people living in better health conditions, generally prospered and contented, and more than ever appreciative of the benefits of American sovereignty and of the vital importance of free trade relations with America," McIntyre said.

"In the fiscal year ending June 30, 1927, exports of centrifugal sugar amounted to 435,000 metric tons, showing a prompt response to the greater availability of funds to the sugar planters."

Care of Babies

This baby has never had a day's sickness and never a cross or fretful spell that lasted an hour. And what do you suppose is responsible for this happy condition? Not diet, for he has eaten just about anything and everything a child could eat. Not drugs, for he has not been dosed with opiates; he has never had a drop of paregoric. Nor has his sensible mother ever made him taste castor oil. Yet his nerves are sound and his little bowels are strong, and when he does seem the least restless or wakeful, or out of sorts or likely to be—his mother has him all serene again in ten or fifteen minutes!

The secret of this complete freedom from the many ills and upsets so common to infants? Plain old-fashioned Castoria. A million and more mothers swear by Castoria, and no wonder! A few drops and an approaching fever, colic, diarrhea or constipation seems to vanish in thin air. Castoria is purely vegetable; that is why

DICTATOR OF SPAIN LABORS UNTIL 3 A.M.

By SAM LOVE

United Press Correspondent

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—Primo de Rivera, dictator of Spain and most striking figure in Europe after Mussolini, holds the nation in the hollow of his hand through the expenditure of dynamic energy that would shock even a high pressure American business executive.

As his associates used to refer to John Pierpont Morgan as "J. P." it is significant that in Spain, land of many titles, Captain General Miguel Primo de Rivera, Senor Marques de Estella, is referred to out of his hearing as "The Primo."

A close-up of de Rivera at work has been given the United Press by Nancy McCormack, famous American sculptress, who modeled the only bust for which the "Spanish Mussolini" has consented to pose. "De Rivera works from 12 to 16 hours a day," said Mrs. McCormack. "He leaves the family residence, tucked away in a narrow street just off the Paseo del Prado, at a morning hour that shocks the two guards at either end of the street.

"It is 9 a.m. when the Primo begins his day. Often beginning at the Palacio Real, by 11 a.m. he is at his desk in the ministry of war. Once ensconced, he begins the endless dictation.

"To observe this man at work is to see an arch-type of what we Americans call 100 per cent efficiency. He dissipates no nervous energy in futile gestures and useless discussion.

"He continues dictation even while he eats his luncheon, which as a rule is served on his desk.

"At three in the afternoon, according to the unbroken Spanish custom, he goes home for the siesta. But at five, when we consider our business day done, the Primo is just swinging into his stride. He returns to his desk, not to have his day interrupted until 10 p.m. This is the dinner hour. The Primo dines but does not retire. Often he works with his secretaries until two and three o'clock in the morning.

"He rules himself with the iron discipline he formerly practiced upon his soldiers."

As when she perpetuated Mussolini in bronze, Mrs. McCormack was compelled to catch the Spanish dictator in the midst of his day's toil. Her portrait bust presents a handsome man with a proud and forceful nose, baffling eyes that receive everything and reflect nothing and a wide mouth of many subtle insinuations.

"Primo de Rivera does not give the impression of being a man who enjoys making war, yet I can not imagine a more terrible foe." The lines were written after seeing Mussolini.

Teacher Of 91 Against Lipstick

FREMONT, O., Nov. 28.—The young people of today are charming, but—

Miss Esther L. Otis, 91, Ohio's oldest living schoolmarm, is a forthright, outspoken woman who is not afraid to say what she thinks. No glossing over the unconventionalities of youth for her. Manners and modes come in for some criticism from her, but she freely confesses the attractiveness of 1927's boys and girls.

"I am charmed with the young people I meet in the schools and churches," said Miss Otis, who retired from active teaching in 1892 after nearly 38 years of active service.

"I cannot say they are better or worse than the boys and girls of my day. One hears more about their escapades now, I suppose."

As to manners—

"School children today apparently have lost their attitude of respect and reverence for age. They have a smart air. They are noisier now than they were in my day. Then they entered the schoolrooms quietly and went quickly and earnestly to work."

She has a word for the flappers, too—"Lipstick," Miss Otis pronounced, "is clownish. I do not understand why young girls want to paint their faces up as they do."

Miss Otis started teaching in Bellevue in 1862 after she had been graduated from Oberlin college, of which she is one of the oldest living alumnae.

A year later she took charge of a one-room school in Fremont, with 75 pupils.

Now out of the harness, she still maintains an active interest in education and is a frequent visitor in the Fremont schools.

PRINCIPALS IN ROMANCE

Here are the dramatic personae in Germany's "princess and the pauper" wedding. In the lower photo you see the 61-year-old Princess Victoria of Schaumberg-Lippe, sister of the former Kaiser Wilhelm, and her 28-year-old husband, Alexander Zoubkoff, who made his living by washing dishes. Outside of working hours he made his loving, and that's where Miles Suzette, shown above, comes in. Suzette is sometimes known as "queen of the Paris mannequins," but in spite of her youth and beauty, could not compete against a great title and a large fortune. She did go to Bonn, Germany, and try to recapture her sweetheart before the wedding bells rang, but failed. Meanwhile the former Kaiser is more than slightly disturbed.

Ancient Bread Is Given Museum

CHICAGO, Nov. 29.—Nearly 4000 years old, a loaf of bread, found in a middle kingdom cemetery of Egypt, is now on exhibition at the Field Museum of Natural History here.

The loaf was obtained by the museum through Prof. James H. Breasted, noted Egyptologist and head of the Oriental Institute at the University of Chicago.

The bread is believed to have been placed in an ancient grave, from which it was taken recently, in conformity with the belief of olden days that the dead need food.

Made from a coarse grain, the bread was wrapped in a mummy covering.

Professor Breasted estimated that it dates back to between 2000 and 1500 B.C.

Jinrikisha End Seen In Japan

TOKIO, Nov. 28.—The 50-cent taxi is fast driving the jinrikisha from the streets of Tokio and the other large cities in Japan. Ten years ago there were a thousand husky riksha men yelling for fares for one taxi driver. Today the taxis outnumber the rikshas and another picturesque feature of life in the far east is disappearing before the march of western ideas and hustle.

The number of motor cars in Tokio has trebled since 1921, when there were 4097 licensed. Today there are 14,500. In 1921 the streets were filled with rikshas, to the number of 17,695. Today that number has shrunk to 8776, and these are most to be found in the suburbs.

The riksha was at the height of its popularity in Japan in 1900, when there were 300,000 in the country, 60,000 being in use in Tokio.

Liquor Belt Is Used In Oregon

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 29.—Bootlegging with an ingenious and inventive turn of mind operates in Portland, judging from equipment used in carrying hooch, found by Portland police.

A wine belt, an arrangement whereby a person may circle his middle with flat bottles, was seized the other day and is now in the possession of the vice squad of the police department.

The unusual belt occupies a place along side a pair of leg-bottles seized in a former raid. These bottles, of one-gallon capacity each, are semi-circular and fit over the thighs of a woman. With a dress and coat concealing the bulk of a dainty flapper, equipped with these bottles could carry two gallons of hooch into church or the police station and no one would be the wiser.

HAS PRESIDENT BECOME MALE STYLE EXPERT?

By THOMAS L. STOKES

United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—Is President Coolidge becoming a fashion arbiter? This was the question asked here today by those interested in the trend of styles, as they discussed the president's antipathy to the bell-bottom trousers now worn so widely by young men in the college sets—as well as by some who are older.

The president's dictum was affirmative this time. He commanded a group of students who wore the slender, shorter variety of trousers. Several months ago he frowned upon the bell-bottom trousers of a college group which visited him, and upon the absence of suspenders.

Several Samples Appear

That pronouncement brought several samples of suspenders to the White House. There was some speculation today as to whether the White House may be the recipient soon of several specimens of thin-legged trousers of shorter length than now are customary.

Those speculating on the president's opinions of male attire also are recalling a bit of recent gossip that the president does not like the wide, "bell bottom" skirts now worn by many women.

The White House always has been a sort of fashion arbiter for the rest of the country, particularly among the women, not in the way of formal opinions, but as an example. Costumes worn by the first lady of the land are noted and frequently copied.

Mrs. Harding started the fashion for a certain shade of blue, which became known in time as "Harding blue." Mrs. Coolidge's clothes and hats are watched by the womenfolk of the land, who frequently go to their dressmakers and milliners with demands for something similar.

Coolidge Dresses Well

Presidents themselves rarely have the style. Several presidents have been known as "good dressers." Harding, who had a splendid figure, was in this group. President Coolidge dresses conservatively and well. That he has an extensive wardrobe was revealed when his effects were moved to the temporary White House, word leaking out through some attaché that he had many suits and a whole closet full of shoes.

Those who believe the president's opinions on style may have some weight recalled today that several seasons back his suggestion that old hats might be cleaned, as a measure of economy, instead of replaced by new ones, was followed by many.

Acid Scalp

How many carefully coiffured heads can stand the test of eyes only inches away, and reveal not a speck of dandruff? How many women can warm to the dance, and know their hair will have no taint for the partner who holds them close?

No one can be sure who has acid scalp.

If you even suspect this acid condition of the scalp, it is time for Danderine. This scientific preparation will neutralize any acidity; and dissolve all dandruff if there is any. And it always gives the hair itself a lovely softness and sheen. It will wave better, hold a wave longer, and behave better all the time if you just occasionally apply a few drops of Danderine. Try it! Every druggist has this perfect conditioner of the scalp and hair, and a thirty-five cent bottle lasts for weeks.

ANTI-INTERVENTION MOVE IS SUGGESTED

Moose Is Held Oregon Nuisance

BROWNSVILLE, Tex., Nov. 28.—A movement among Latin-American countries to frustrate President Coolidge's moves at the Sixth Pan American congress in Havanna next February and to offer a plan before the convention for an agreement prohibiting intervention in any Latin-American country, has been revealed by Mexican newspaper reaching here.

El Porvenir, a Monterey newspaper, affirms that delegates from Mexico, Santa Domingo and other countries will present a plan forbidding any nation from intervening in another's affairs, even though temporarily.

This motion, the newspaper adds, will be presented principally by countries to which the United States has sent troops, such as Nicaragua, Haiti and Mexico, showing the pressure which the White House has exerted in Latin-America.

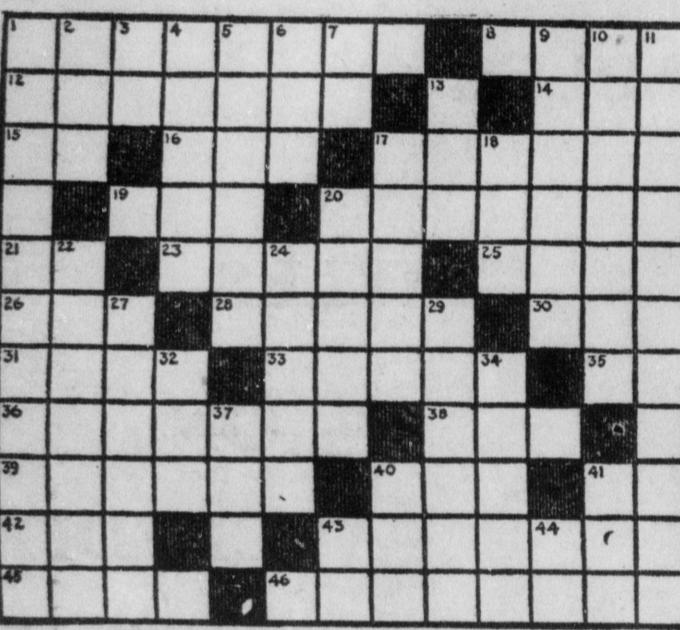

The newspaper said that the Mexican part of the affair was inexact, as delegates have not been instructed as to what motions they shall present. It intimates, however, that maneuvers to frustrate any move that President Coolidge may have made are taking place.

"In several Latin-American countries," El Porvenir's correspondent concluded, "an active campaign is being developed against the White House. This propaganda comes from Europe."

JACK LOCKWELL

"Don't do it now, Price!" cautioned Maddox, restraining his friend. "Better not hit him when he's crippled. They'd make a loud squawk about it." "You're right," said Hargan, letting his fist drop. "Anyhow, we came here to make a truce with you, Lockwell." "It's too late," returned Jack. "I'll make no truce with you now! It's a fight to the finish!"

"Oh, all right!" snapped Price. "You're licked from the start! You're all through as the big squeeze of the freshman class." Then he walked out, following Maddox.

"That's one of the unwritten laws of this school," added the senior president. "While it was all right as long as you were a junior, conditions changed this term." Willie was sorrowfully packing his belongings when Jack came in from a recitation. "Hargan did it somehow," said Darling, almost crying. "Nobody else would have objected. I hope he goes!"

Scots' Charity Ball
Successful Event

Quantities of holly gathered from the surrounding mountains, were used decoratively at the charity ball given recently by Santa Ana pyramid, Ancient Order of Scots, at the K. P. Hall.

Musical boat navigation of the Zambezi river, the settling of the country at Cape Good Hope, the beautiful drives all along the coast, Victoria Falls and its scenic beauty, were a few of the things brought out in the excellent talk.

ARREST WOMAN ON DRIVING CHARGES

Charged with driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor, Irene M. McAllister, 23, told jailers she was a secretary, nurse and housekeeper, was arrested last night at Laguna Beach, by Laguna Beach officers, after the automobile she was said to have been driving collided with a car occupied by a man and his wife and small daughter. No one

She was to be taken to the beach was reported injured.

According to officers, the McAllister woman was traveling south at the time of the accident, on the Coast boulevard. She told jailers she was going to San Clemente where she expected to make her home in the future.

WAVIES HEARING IN MORRISON'S COURT

R. A. Cushman, Mrs. Clara Cushman and F. G. Yoeder were among the exhibitors at the Ambassador dog show held under the auspices of the Los Angeles Kennel Club with sanction of the American Kennel Club.

The county exhibitors carried away some ribbons with their entries. Dr. Cushman's exhibit was of wire hair fox terriers, in which he was second in the open bitch contest, fourth in the brace, second in senior puppy, first for dogs bred by the exhibitors and first in the California bred division.

In the Cairn breed, Mrs. Cushman won first in the open bitch competition and third for junior puppy.

Yoeder captured second for California bred sheepdogs.

More than 1000 dogs were on display.

ARRAIGNED HERE ON CHARGE OF ROBBERY

Charged with attempt to commit robbery, Jaido Beltram, Mexican youth, was arraigned in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court this morning and bail set at $5000. His preliminary examination was set for December 1, at 9 a. m.

Beltram and another man are alleged to have held up T. Salwati, a Japanese, at his home several days ago, near Garden Grove. Nothing was reported as stolen, although the men are alleged to have been in the Japanese home when he suddenly returned.

Following the election a program was presented, when the Rev. George A. Warmer, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, gave an interesting talk. Musical numbers were given by Miss Stovall, Miss Madelyn Philleo, Miss Ruth Andrews and Miss Lizzetta Phillips. A playlet, "Charm of the Old Album," was the final number. Those taking part were Mrs. Mabel Crawford, Mrs. Cora

OIL COMPANIES ELIMINATED IN DAMAGES SUIT

Mrs. Edna Paine of 619 Lime street was surprised Sunday when she was made honor guest at a dinner party given for her by Mrs. Loraine Smith who shares her home.

The occasion for the dinner was the celebration of Mrs. Paine's birthday which occurred Saturday. Only relatives and close friends were present.

Many lovely gifts were presented the honoree, chief among them being a floor pillow given by the girls employed at the beauty shop on which she is manager.

Newlyweds Return From Northern Trip

H. J. Cochems and bride, formerly Mrs. Margaret Favro, who were married on November 15, returned home yesterday after a honeymoon spent in the northern part of the state.

While away the bride and groom called on Mrs. Cochems' daughter at Pixley, Calif., and her son at Santa Rosa. After a few days spent in San Francisco the couple returned by auto down the coast route.

They will be at home to their friends at 1124 West Seventeenth street.

Ebell Society

Second Travelers

Mrs. J. L. Wheeler, Mrs. E. C. Nelson and Mrs. Emma French, greeted their sister members of Ebell's second travel section, at an enjoyable November luncheon held recently in the clubhouse.

A short business meeting was held immediately after the luncheon and then the entertaining program opened with a group of songs delightfully rendered by Mrs. Harry N. Hayes. Her numbers were "Song of the Soul," "Break o' Day" by Sanderson, and "Love Has Eyes." Miss Carrie Seaton was a spirited accompanist.

Sam P. Nau was introduced as speaker, and took the section members to far places of the earth as he told of his trip from Ceylon to Africa, last spring. He told first of the ocean voyage across to Mombasa then of the equatorial climate. The negroes and their homes of abode with thatched roofs, standing on high timbers as a protection from dampness and reptiles, were described, and the different wives of the owner. The British government collects taxes on these wives.

The low wage scale was described, Mr. Nau stating that frequently the natives work in citrus orchards controlled by British syndicates, for the equivalent of 15 to 20 cents a day. Irrigation methods used are similar to those of California. Diamond mining, the methods of blasting the "china necks" some of which are a quarter of a mile wide and 800 feet deep, and the crushing of the rocks to obtain the crystals, were all vividly described, and the speaker told of the natives signing for a long period of months, at pay of some four or five dollars a month.

Motor boat navigation of the Zambezi river, the settling of the country at Cape Good Hope, the beautiful drives all along the coast, Victoria Falls and its scenic beauty, were a few of the things brought out in the excellent talk.

200 AUTOS PARADE AT BIG AIR MEET

Two hundred automobiles took part in the parade at Huntington Beach this morning as part of the aviation celebration sponsored by beach city citizens. The parade, after traversing the main streets of Huntington Beach, went to the airport at Talbert road and the Santa Ana-Huntington Beach boulevard, where a number of airplanes had congregated for exhibitions.

Lieut. Leslie Arnald, around-the-world flier, was among the noted aviators present. Lieut. Arnald addressed students of the beach city school this afternoon on the subject of aviation. Lieut. D. W. Tomlinson, commander of a naval squadron at San Diego, also was present.

Financial and Market News

NEW YORK CURB

BY RICHARD L. GRIDLEY
NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Trading continued at a record breaking pace on the curb today with the tape for the greater part of the session failing to move as ten minutes passed behind the trading. A tremendous rise in Ford Motor of Canada to a new record high of 700, featured the market; the high level was 65 points above yesterday's last sale, but later selling erased about half of this gain.

Stocks of Ford companies, which had been contracts or prospects of making them as well as demand, Firestone, Tire and Rubber again selling at the highest price of the year at 190 which compared with 150 in January, and Midland Steel Products, rising around the highest level of history, now regaining the loss of 5 points made yesterday.

Yull was driving a Standard Oil company truck at the time the Furquay car was hit. But the evidence showed that he was going home and was not acting for the company at the time. This, with the failure to connect the Pacific Gasoline company, for which Yull is said to have worked also, with the accident, resulted in the dismissal of the case against them.

The jury was dismissed while L. A. West, attorney for the plain-tiff, and George Greer, of Los Angeles, argued the latter's motion for dismissal of the two defendants.

When the jury returned, Yull was placed on the stand and testified that he had said he was traveling 37 miles per hour at the time of the accident. The court declared a recess and resumed hearing testimony at 2 o'clock.

Mrs. Furquay was driving the car at the time of the crash, which happened near Cypress. She was slightly injured and the automobile was damaged to the extent of several hundred dollars.

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Describing the market, the Wall Street Journal's financial review today said:

If the market attains its accuracy as a trade prophet, general business will be stimulated next year by resumption of Ford production.

This was forecast today by aggressive gains in shares of companies benefiting from distribution of orders in connection with the war.

But improvement was not confined to stocks participating directly in removal of Ford activity. Representative automobile shares were in good condition, with a number of stocks showing a recovery in price.

EVENING SALUTATION
Good name in man or woman, dear my lord,
Is the immediate jewel of their souls:
Who steals my purse, steals trash: 'tis something, nothing;
'Twas mine, 'tis his, and has been slave to thousands;
But he that filches from me my good name,
Robs me of that which not enriches him,
And makes me poor indeed.
—Shakespeare.

TROUBLES SEEM TO INCREASE WITH WEALTH

A man may have great wealth and corresponding great trouble as is evidenced by Sebastian S. Kresge, chain-store magnate in the midst of a law suit in New York City involving a half million; his son has a trial in Detroit for transporting and having possession of liquor, this with Kresge, as one of the leading drys of the nation. And it was just a little while ago that his wife was suing him for divorce. This would make it appear that wealth and trouble grow in proportion.

LET THE TRUTH BE LEARNED AND ACTION TAKEN

A great deal that has been published by the Hearst newspapers reflecting on President Calles and the Mexican government can be passed over without much consideration, but the announcement that a member of the Mixed Claims Commission was bribed by President Calles to render a decision in favor of Mexico, cannot be passed over in silence. If this accusation has any foundation in fact, the whole case should be re-opened and justice should be done in the case of the sixteen murdered American citizens.

It is difficult to believe that an offense of this enormity could be perpetrated by the head of a sister republic. If President Calles has been guilty of this offense, he is positively unworthy of trust in the future, and even an apology and restitution would not be adequate to place the Mexican government in a position to be trusted as long as the present chief executive remains at its head.

It is sufficiently serious to warrant a most searching and complete investigation and in case of its truth being established, our representative, Mr. Morrow, should be withdrawn and Mexico made to understand that she has lost the respect and confidence of civilized nations, pretending to be governed by law and justice, and she cannot be worthy of admission into the diplomatic circles until she has purged herself of the offending president. One of the lowest crimes of outrageous perfidy is bribery and it is bad enough for a crime of this character to be made by the homeless peasant, but by the chief executive of a great nation, the act is the most reprehensible in history.

THE CHRISTMAS SPIRIT AND OBLIGATIONS

The merchants who have messages for the people because of preparations made are calling the attention of the readers of The Register to the Christmas time, the Christmas spirit and the Christian obligations.

All men who have any special manner in which they are serving the community in which they live and are holding themselves out for such service have a real message to the people. That message is large in the mind of the individual just in proportion as he believes that the service which he is rendering is of real value to the people to whom he proposes to render it. It is as important to us who are seeking the best for ourselves and others to note the news items in the advertising columns as it is to note them in the news columns themselves. The real up-to-date, far-seeing, broad-visioned tradesman of our community buys in New York or elsewhere with you and me in mind and he has these goods shipped to Santa Ana so that he can serve us to the highest degree. The one who uses the greatest intelligence in considering our needs and who buys to the best advantage and who thereby can sell to us tells of it through the advertising columns of the newspaper. And while he profits, of course, we profit also. He has been our servant and he has reported how well he has worked for us and it is only in proportion as he has worked for us and lets us know it that we are able to reward him by taking advantage of the opportunities that he is giving.

A special time when all of these things reach their highest point of value and when memory, coupled with the virtues of kindness and gratitude and family love is now at hand and our servants, the merchants, call our attention to the nearness of the approaching Christmas time for which on our behalf they have made special preparation.

There are only twenty-two trading days between now and Christmas morning and with many of us we need each moment of every one of these days between this time and that to wisely and completely remember those into whose thought we desire to bring our own personality under the most sweetened and hallowed influences.

We can look back on a good many Christmas times. Some of them are marred with the memory of thoughtlessness, of hurried and hectic action the last few hours before the shops closed rushing from place to place with the crowd, trying to get something that would be passable for the occasion. Some of these were sent to distant points and were bound to arrive too late bearing evidence that our thoughts had not turned to them until a very late hour. We have recollections on the other hand of Christmas times when several weeks before Christmas day our minds turned to friends and relatives and we thought of them for a longer period and planned and worked out a program that was complete and helpful and in every way fine and consummated before the last days of Christmas rush and hurry. And whatever else may have come from it our own lives were enriched because after all it is giving of ourselves in our thought and imagination to others which spells the largest value at any time.

So we are grateful to those merchants who are calling our attention, none too early, to preparations that they have made to serve us. Their stores are now loaded with merchandise, neither shop-worn nor muddled over. By addressing ourselves at once to life the activities of the period we are helped by having the finest opportunity for selection, time for consideration, help the merchant and his clerks by distributing the load over a longer period, aid the mail service in the same manner and do our part in making a heavy and burdensome month a real joy not only to the recipient of our favors but to all those, our servants in a sense, who serve us in these various relationships.

The course of events is apt to show itself curiously careless of the reputation of prophets.—James Russell Lowell.

HIGHWAYS MAKE FRIENDS

Long Beach Press-Telegram

Many automobiles from distant states are seen on the streets and highways of California. This method of travel to this state is very much in vogue now. Many journey overland leisurely in their own machines and upon reaching California tour this state at their convenience. Finding some place in particular which they like, they make it their headquarters and radiate from it in sightseeing trips. The splendid network of permanently paved streets and highways in this state appeals strongly to visiting autists. They carry praises of this state back home with them and become enthusiastic boosters for California. This form of advertising helps this state a great deal.

THE PURPOSE

San Diego Union

Italy's alliance with the little republic of Albania, a nation whose entire population is only a little greater than that of Rome, is "purely defensive." It pledges each nation to join forces with the other, when either is attacked. Obviously, however, Albania will never have to "defend" Italy; and, quite as obviously, Italy does not pledge itself to Albania's defense without compensation of some kind. In all the Fascist propaganda there is much talk of Italian glory, Italian expansion, but never a note of pure altruism. Italy has taken over Albania for a very definite purpose.

Albania will now serve as the Balkan chip on Mussolini's shoulder.

ORIGIN OF "O. K." LEFT IN HISTORICAL DOUBT

Sacramento Bee

Several different "explanations" have been published as to the origin of the familiar "O. K." so commonly used in this country to signify "all right."

According to Webster's Dictionary, it may have been derived from the Choctaw Indian word, "okeh," meaning "it is so and not otherwise."

Another supposition is that "O. K." came from the use of a campaign banner in Ohio on which this wording appeared, as traced by an illiterate farmer:

THE WHIGS ARE ALL CORRECT

The story goes that later this was converted into:

THE WHIGS ARE O. K.

Still another version appeared lately in the New York Evening Post, to the effect "O. K." originally related to the excellent quality of rum made in Aux Cayes, Haiti.

But a man who says he has been there throws doubt upon this theory by declaring to the Post that the quality of the rum at Aux Cayes is "terrible."

At present the question seems to remain in historical doubt.

EFFICIENCY EXPERTS

Tackle Milady's Face

San Bernardino Sun

Some genius with a bent for figures estimates that powdered noses cost American business $362,440,000 a year. Worked out in detail, the glorification of the American proboscis taxes business approximately $42.64 per nose. Here is the analysis: There are 8,500,000 women in business today, all of them with noses in need of powdering. Keeping that feature presentable occupies 21,000,000 working hours. When this year is ended the nation will have spent $303,815,500 for naval prestige, but American business will have unwittingly contributed more than that amount for the honor of milady's American nose.

Efficiency experts claim that each business woman spends at least 30 minutes a day powdering her nose, touching her lips with carmine, and her cheeks with rouge. Ten minutes of this time is devoted to nose dusting at the desk, while the remainder is spent at the washroom mirror. Estimating the feminine salary at $20.00 per week, the time thus devoted to the art of personal adornment each week amounts to 82 cents per person.

The United States may agree with foreign powers to sink its battleships, but there is little possibility of facial disarmament, and even the men will vote against it.

HEALTH TOPICS

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN

Editor of Journal of American Medical Association

HERE ARE FOUR REASONS WHY CHILD LIES

A recent investigation of the reasons for lying by children indicates that the greatest cause is fear; second, a lively imagination; third, fantasy and the desire for mimicry; fourth, weakness of will.

A parent who is interested in controlling lying in a child must be able to distinguish from conscious and deliberate deception for a definite purpose and the lie that is merely told as a form of play.

Parents should remember that prevention is better than cure and that they always should be careful to be truthful themselves before the child.

PUNISHMENT

It is not wise to exaggerate the importance of lying in the child's imagination by too severe a punishment or by excessive questioning to get at the truth. The child will under such circumstances attach far too much seriousness to the possibilities of what may be accomplished by variation from the truth.

The child is likely to be extraordinarily imaginative, since every day brings to it new and not well understood experiences.

Too often the imagination of the child is repressed because of social taboo or customs. The response of the child is to develop a secret life of fantasy and through this to develop mental habits that may be harmful.

CONTROLLING MENTAL LIFE

The policy of many parents to let the child's mental life go on with little, if any, control, is a serious matter since such lack of control seems to be the basis of twists in the personality.

It is the view of some physicians that a healthy emotional life for a child is based on security in his parents' affections and satisfaction in his own activities. A child who is generally well from a physical point of view and whose emotions of fear, rage and love do not develop excessively is the right road to a normal type of mentality in adult life.

Little Benny's Note-Book

by Lee Page

After supper pop was smoking and thinking, and he took a long thin box out of his pocket with a razor in it, saying, I made a purchase today, a fellow came in the office with some of these things, he said he picked them up in Germany at a great bargain and their the best razors made anywhere in the world, the box method is the only one that fits these conditions.

THE heredity of the school is the school. Each school is the descendant of another school. Usually the school catches up with life about two hundred years late. We are now teaching the subjects which became useful in the renaissance. In an age when everybody drives an automobile or a motorcycle, we have teachers who know the pedigree of Agamemnon, but have no idea why gas explodes. California children learn Whittier's "Snow Bound," but not how to paint a radio coil or why you prune grape vines. And what little they know of the great outdoors they learned by playing hooky, and got punished for. They can extract cube root, but if they know a linnet from a sparrow then learned it from a picture in a book.

THE fantastic idea crops up periodically that those who vote us into war should be sent at once to the firing line in the front ranks. Even Senator Johnson, whose first vote in the Senate was for the declaration of war, is quoted as having repeated this suggestion in his Armistice day address. Yet even at that time, if the Senator had been sentenced to the front ranks, he would have needed an automobile to take him there, and somebody to carry his gun.

THE fallacy is in assuming that the declaration of war should be a punishable offense, and that serving in the army is punishment.

On the contrary if a war should be declared at all, it is an honor to have had a part in declaring it. There are no more honored names in American history than those of the signers of the Declaration of Independence, which precipitated the country into war.

Senator Johnson himself never cast a juster vote than that by which we entered the great war, and thereby stopped the spread of an iron autocracy over the world. Or, if he now thinks otherwise, there should at least be some better way to prevent war than the threat of sending a lot of fat and wheezy Senators to be a nuisance in the ranks.

III find out tomorrow morning pop sed, and ma sed, Well if you come down to breakfast a mass of cuts and bruises from head to foot dont say I didnt warn you.

I wont, pop sed.

And this morning when he came down to breakfast he had 2 red scratches on one side of his face and three and a half on the other side, ma sed, Now, Willyum, what did I tell you?

That took a little extra effort.

I must admit, pop sed, and ma sed, Well Im going to take a little extra effort and hide that razor.

That sounds like infringing on human liberties, but Ill give all the aid in my power, youll find it under the bathtub ware I kicked it in a burst of pane and impatience, hide it well, pop sed.

Meening he hoped he would never see it agen.

That question, pop sed, and ma sed, Jest look at your face.

Id rather look at yours, its very becoming this morning, pop sed, and ma sed, But Willyum, you look like a perfect beetle.

I dont think Ill take an egg this morning, pop sed, and ma sed, Its all rite to change the subject, but look at your face, youve even got a cut on your nose, was that necessary?

That took a little extra effort.

I must admit, pop sed, and ma sed, Well Im going to take a little extra effort and hide that razor.

That sounds like infringing on human liberties, but Ill give all the aid in my power, youll find it under the bathtub ware I kicked it in a burst of pane and impatience, hide it well, pop sed.

Meening he hoped he would never see it agen.

SOLDIERS go into the ranks to fight. Nobody should be allowed in those ranks who is not able to fight. Senators and Representatives go to Washington to determine the policies of the country. Most of them would be as useless in the army as Sergeant Yorke and his companions would have been in Congress. There are better ways of preventing war than scaring Congressmen out of voting it. The best of all is the very world organization for peace which Senator Johnson has taken the lead in defeating.

THE pews in church are high and deep.

And just the seat is soft.

When I sit down I cant see much.

But in the choir loft,

The backs of folks in other pews,

The pockets where we put our dues,

And high up little spires climbing

To where I hear the bells a-chiming,

Then outside up on top the church

I know the cooling pigeons perch.

The music plays and people sing

Their songs bout praise to God.

Then while the preacher man prays prayers

A lot o' heads go nod.

I lean my head gainst mother's arm

To feel her there so dear and warm;

And while the grown-ups hear the preaching

I watch a window high up reaching

Where children lean on Jesus' knee

And think how pleasant that would be.
